FORECAST.

MESSAGE OUTLINED

What President Will Recommend.

A Court to Settle Disputed Railway Rate Matters to Be Asked for.

Reorganization of Bureau of Corporations Also Part of the Plan.

Mr. Taft Will Make It Clear That He Is Not Attacking Business.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The keynote of President Taft's message to the coming session of Congress will be:

"This administration was elected on a platform that we proposed to carry out the policies of Theodore Roosevelt, and we propose to keep that promise."

President Taft reserves to himself the right to decide what those policies are. He has said in public addresses that he, more than any other man, perhaps, has been in a position to know just what Roosevelt did or did not believe.

Mr. Taft will recommend a court of five members in order that when the Interstate Commerce Commission decides a rate is unreasonable, a reasonable rate may be made at once, with no appeal on the part of the railroads except to the Supreme Court. This is to make the Hepburn rate bill effective. He will point out that the five judges, having no other business before them, can not only expedite legislation, but naturally will become rate experts.

There will be also a recommendation of a tribunal that will pass on how many bonds and how many shares of stock every interstate railroad may issue, to prevent the watering of stock. At one time the President said:

"This is important, because, when you water stock you only do it todeceive people, and get them to pay more than the stock is worth."

Further, Mr. Taft said, it is wrong because it builds a false foundation on which to reckon what reasonable freight rates are.

NOT BAITING CORPORATIONS.

The President will recommend a reorganization of the Bureau of Corporations, the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the Department of Justice, that the three may work progressively, and not be stumbling over one another, as they are under the present system.

But the President will make it clear that he is not attacking corporations that work legitimately. His own expression on that subject is: "We could not get along without corporations. They are necessary instruments to the business of the country. But as we give the privileges, so they must recognize the responsibility with which they exercise power, and we must have the means of compeling them to recognise that responsibility and to keep within the law."

The President will recommend an amendment to the anti-trust law which, he thinks, will make it effective. Its present terms are so broad that in his mind it is not enforcable, as it makes no distinction between a reasonable and an unreasonable restraint of trade—a difference that is recognised by the common law.

The President's position on the subject of honesty in business is, as summarized by himself:

"It takes some time for a series of courts to make a decision which shall be plain to the business world. But we are going on with this anti-trust law, and if we amend it as I suggest, we shall draw the lines closer and enable men to know what is legitimate business and what is not."

Postal savings banks will be urged.

LAST LAP OF LONG TRIP BEGINS TODAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) Nov. 7.—President Taft enjoyed real leisure today, and will start for Washington tomorrow afternoon refreshed by two days' rest. This was the first Sunday since he has been "on the road" that President Taft was not called upon for an ad-

DIVA'S ESCAPE FROM CLAIM IN AUTO THRILLS CHICAGO.

Melodramatic Atmosphere Provided at Recital by Milwaukee Woman and Six Deputy Sheriffs Trying to Collect Three Thousand Dollars for Alleged Breach of Contract.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A half-dozen perplexed and helpless deputy sheriffs, an angry woman with a claim for $3000, a badly perturbed diva and a thrilling escape in an automobile provided plenty of melodramatic atmosphere for Mme. Fremstad's recital at the Auditorium this afternoon.

The immediate cause was Mrs. Clara Bowen Shepard of Milwaukee, who had come to Chicago and enlisted a force of deputy sheriffs to serve Mme. Fremstad with papers in a breach of contract case, the singer having failed, it was alleged, to fill an engagement in Milwaukee last Thursday.

At the hour for the concert Mme. Fremstad was hurried across the street from her hotel, and half a dozen husky men were posted at the various stage entrance of the Auditorium to see that the programme was not interrupted. Mrs. Shepard, her attorney, and the sheriffs watched things anxiously in the lobby.

Late in the afternoon the deputy sheriffs were distributed at the various points about the theater to watch for Mme. Fremstad's exit. Meanwhile, unknown to the watchers, the diva's baggage had been piled into an auto and sent to the La Salle-street station. Another machine, a heavily-curtained Limousine, was awaiting at the Auditorium hotel entrance. In this Mme. Fremstad escaped.

WARWICK ARMS BURNED.

ASBURY PARK (N. J.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Warwick Arms, the first big summer hotel erected at Point Pleasant, thirty-three years ago, was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin early today. The estimated loss is $60,000. Originally, Warwick Arms was the summer home of many notables in the literary and theatrical world. Richard Harding Davis began or finished many of his novels and plays there. The hostelry was closed for the winter.

NICARAGUAN CAPITAL NOW REBEL OBJECTIVE

Revolutionists Secure Foothold on the Pacific Coast.

Gen. Saenz Makes Successful Attack on Chinandega. Strategic Point of Much Importance—Exiles Burning to Avenge Wrongs Suffered at Hands of Zelaya Composed Attacking Force.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOBILE, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News from Bluefields and other Nicaraguan ports confirm the victory at Bocas De San Carlos, won by Gen. Emiliano Chamorro, October 28. It is also asserted that Gen. Jersan Saenz had made a successful attack on Chinandega, which is on the Pacific Coast-side of Nicaragua.

Gen. Saenz has a large force of men and is marching on the Nicaraguan capital.

News from the Atlantic Coast States shows that Generals Mena and Forned Diaz have reached Almendro, with a force of about five hundred men and several pieces of artillery. This point is in the department of Chuntales and is about ten hours' march from Lake Nicaragua.

Gen. Chamorro is strongly fortified in Bocas de San Carlos and in addition to a large force of tried soldiers he has planted several pieces of artillery at advantageous positions so as to control the approaches to the fortifications on all sides.

Much importance is attached to the taking of Chinandega on the Pacific Coast. This is regarded as a strategic point.

Gen. Saenz commands the admiration of his countrymen for valor and ability, as a disciplinarian and tactician. His force consists of men from Costa Rica, Salvador and other countries, who have been exiled from Nicaragua for political offenses in other revolutions.

Attempts will be made by Zelaya to make the blockade of the Atlantic ports of Nicaragua effective, according to advices which were received here by friends of the insurgent forces. This action is to be taken in order to comply with the instructions of the State Department at Washington, which were that the Atlantic ports should be considered open until Zelaya could maintain an effective blockade.

According to the information received here Zelaya, through his agent, Consul-General Altschul, has purchased here a small steamer, which is being equipped with several guns and turned into a coast guard. This is to be used for the patrol of the Nicaraguan coast to stop commerce with Bluefields.

Shortly after Consul-General Altschul first learned of the outbreak in Nicaragua he disappeared from New Orleans for about five days. It was thought he had gone to Washington, but inquiries made at the national capital proved this theory to be unfounded. It has just been learned that he was in this city negotiating for the purchase of the steamer.

EXILES ASK TAFT NOT TO INTERVENE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PANAMA, Nov. 7.—Prominent members of the Nicaraguan colony here today sent a cable message to President Taft, asking him, "in the name of humanity and civilization," to pay no attention to requests of Zelaya, either for aid or non-interference, and saying that if the United States cannot intervene in Central America it should at least let the fate of Nicaragua be decided on the battlefield.

The petition is made "in the name of hundreds of Nicaraguans banished from their country, and hundreds lying in the prisons of Managua."

President Zelaya's enemies claim that he is isolated and that his representatives in foreign affairs are all foreigners, as he is unable to get natives to serve him.

WON'T DOWN.

ROOSEVELT SAFE, IS GOVERNMENT'S BELIEF.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MOMBASSA (British East Africa) Nov. 7.—The government has been investigating the rumors regarding the illness of ex-President Roosevelt, and while not successful in getting into direct communication with his party, has learned enough to satisfy the officials that there is no truth in the rumors.

The latest dispatch received tonight from officials in the interior says:

"Nothing known here of the rumors. El Dama Ravine reports all well, October 30. Roosevelt party is now on a long safari."

RUNNING DOWN RUMOR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROME, Nov. 7.—John W. Bassett, secretary of the American Embassy, today received another dispatch from Messrs. Newland and Tarlton, Nairobi, friends of Col. Roosevelt, who are following up their investigation as to the origin of the report of Mr. Roosevelt's illness. The dispatch was as follows:

"Have ascertained that no uncoded telegrams have been dispatched from this protectorate that could be responsible for the Roosevelt rumor, which is obviously untrue. Col. Roosevelt is away from a railway. We are trying to communicate with him. He will wire direct."

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has been greatly worried by the reports of her husband's illness, remained in her apartments throughout the day, but Miss Roosevelt and Miss Carew took a short drive, accompanied by Commander Andrew T. Long, the American naval attaché.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA AT DALNY.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—A special dispatch from Peking says that, in spite of official denial, M. Kokovsoff, the Russian Minister of Finance, will confer shortly with a Japanese representative, M. Kurachi, director of the Political Bureau of the Japanese Foreign Office, who has arrived at Dalny.

TURKEYS HAVE APPENDICITIS.

Thanksgiving Menu Jeopardized by Presence of Disease in New England.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] New England's turkeys are being wiped out by appendicitis, declare scientists. Already a thorough investigation of the causes of the disease and its possible prevention is being made by such well known scientists as Dr. Theobald Smith and Dr. E. E. Trizzer of the Harvard Medical School and Dr. Philip B. Padley of the State Experiment Station of Rhode Island.

The organism which infests the doomed birds has been variously identified—simply as an amoeba, and more specifically the "coccidium avium" but under either name it has done its work and the experts unite in saying that once the disease has attacked a partridge or a game bird there is no hope.

Bystanders, Who See Car Rushing Toward Open Draw Over River at Chicago in Dark, Hear Screams of Women as Machine Dives Headlong Into Black Water.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An automobile plunged into the river at Jackson boulevard shortly before midnight tonight, while the bridge was turned. A man and a woman were seen to come to the surface and float down stream, the man endeavoring to save the woman by carrying her on his back. After drifting for more than a block, both sank with last despairing cries for help.

The bridge tenders and policemen who were near believe that two others are pinned under the wrecked automobile at the bottom of the river. The draw had been left open to allow a steamer to pass through and several persons saw the machine make the plunge into midstream.

The car was speeding about twenty-five miles an hour, and when it struck the water, dove downward into the mud on the river bed. There were screams for help and those within hearing distance are positive that they heard the cries of more than one woman. James Hyland, patrolman at the west end of the bridge, believes that at least four persons were in the machine.

One of the men drowned is believed to be James E. Caggins of Cheyenne, Wyo., a friend of Senator Warren. He left the Congress hotel tonight in a machine bearing the same number and is not accounted for. Another man is C. Douglas, the chauffeur.

Archbishop Glennon Declares the Whole Cult of Socialism Should Be Opposed by All—Finds Fault With Papers for Printing Details of Crimes Against Civilization.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Archbishop John J. Glennon, in his sermon in the new cathedral chapel here today, discussing socialism and Ferrer's execution, said:

"The real reason the mob resented the execution of Ferrer was because he was a socialist. That is the head and front of the Spanish government's offending, that it should have had the audacity to condemn to death a socialist.

"The whole cult of socialism should be opposed heartily because the spirit of individual liberty that is concerned only with pleasure is in it, in America as well as in Europe.

"Karl Marx's daughter substituted dissoluble-at-will union for permanent marriage," the archbishop explained. "It did not suit her transient mate long, and she committed suicide.

"I am sorry to see only too plainly," the archbishop continued, "that where a crime is against civilization and should not be mentioned among us, according to Saint Paul, it is mentioned on the front page of the newspapers and given euphemistic headings."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Nov. 7.—James E. Rodrick, State Chief Inspector of Mines, sharply criticized the present method of selection of mine inspectors, in a report on anthracite mining in Pennsylvania in 1908, which was sent to Gov. Stuart today. He declares the present system pernicious and detrimental to the best interests of the miners. The chief also urges more effort to educate miners.

The production last year was 74,592,211 net tons, against 84,056,412 tons the year before. During the year 596 lives were lost, a decrease compared with former years.

DELAYED LINER LIMPS IN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—La Savie, of the French line, arrived from Havre today, twenty-four hours late because of an accident to her starboard propeller. While wallowing in a westerly swell last Tuesday evening one of the starboard engines started to race. Either the propeller had dropped off or the tail shaft had broken and it was necessary to shut off steam and proceed under a single propeller for the rest of the voyage. An examination by a diver will be necessary to determine the exact nature of the damage.

FRENCH STEAMERS COLLIDE.

HAVRE, Nov. 7.—The French line steamer La Lorraine was in collision last night with the steamer St. Barthelemy off Cape La Hague. Although only a few plates were started, La Larraine returned to port as a precaution. The passengers and cargo were transferred to La Gascogne, which will sail Wednesday. The St. Barthelemy's stem was crushed in and she also put into port.

Pastor Absent from Pulpit Reveals Daughter in Alleged Scandal.

Wife of Parishioner Asks for Transfer; Husband's Acts Reported Reason.

Feverish Excitement Follows Reflections Upon Great of Smoky City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fashionable set of Butler, an aristocratic suburb, and the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church, one of the oldest and wealthiest in the presbytery are feverishly excited over an announcement made from the pulpit today and an affair incident to the same.

When Rev. C. P. Marshall took the pulpit in place of Rev. William E. Oller, who for twenty years has been pastor, and is among the highest salaried pastors in the State, he read the following notice, which was signed by C. N. Boyd, clerk of the session:

"The session has investigated the conduct of two certain members. They have appeared before the session, confessed their guilt, and are sorry for what they have done. They have been admonished in accordance to the discipline of the church."

The church was astounded a short time ago when Mrs. T. H. Gillespie, wife of the treasurer of the Standard Steel Car Company, and who is related to the Mellons, Pittsburgh's prominent bankers, demanded that she be given a letter of transfer. The session inquired into her reasons for desiring to withdraw from membership in the church.

Mrs. Gillespie stated her reasons without mincing words. She is said to have declared that she did not wish to belong to a church that kept her husband on its membership roll.

The session then began an inquiry into Mrs. Gillespie's statements, which resulted in the pastor, Rev. Oller, being summoned. The name of his beautiful daughter, Miss Nellie Oller, is alleged to have been mentioned by Mrs. Gillespie. The pastor, it is stated, resented the accusations, and defended his daughter.

The session determined to go through with the affair. Mr. Gillespie, his wife and Nellie Oller, it is stated, were summoned before the churchmen. Gillespie is said to have confessed. Later the tatement of the clerk of the session, to the effect that two members had confessed, was written.

Rev. Oller, it is reported, stoutly defended his daughter, and demanded that she be given a letter of transfer. This was refused by the session.

In the course of the conflict, it is said, a jeweler of Pittsburgh was summoned before the board, and is alleged to have identified certain articles of expensive jewelry which Miss Oller wore. He is said to have testified that Mr. Gillespie purchased the jewelry from him.

New Mexican Editor Says He Would Rather Work on Newspaper Than Be President.

ALBUQUERKE (N. M.) Nov. 7.—William Robinson, editor of the Roswell Register Tribune, and a well-known author, who was offered the governorship of New Mexico, th succeed Gov. Mr. Robinson said:

"I am a newspaper man and would rather work on a newspaper than be President."

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "What is the difference between President Taft and Homer? Seven wealthy towns contended for Homer dead. But 1760 wealthy towns contend for the living Taft. AVIATION MYSTERIES BARED TO JAPANESE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAMMONDSPORT (N. Y.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Glen H. Curtiss has for a week been coaching a mysterious Japanese visitor in the mysteries of flying machines. The stranger is a gentlemanly young Oriental named C. K. Knasu. He arrived at the aeroplane factory in company with Clifford B. Harmon, who came up for the purpose of learning to handle the machine he has bought.

Knasu is a portege of Mr. Harmon, according to the story he tells, but Mr. Harmon declines to discuss the young man. It is claimed here that Knasu intends to study the construction and manipulation of the Curtiss aeroplane for the purpose of taking the one he has bought to Japan. He has manifested a deep interest in every feature entering into its composition, and has spent many hours in the factory watching the men putting together the motor as well as preparing the parts of the aeroplane.

Mr. Curtiss is inclined to believe that the young man has already carried on some experiments with gliders, because he has unintentionally exhibited a thorough knowledge of the manipulation of a flying machine and palpably understands various methods of gliding through the air. Like most of his race, he is extremely reticent about himself. He talks a great deal in fluent English about many subjects, but can never be trapped into making a statement in regard to what his plans are concerning the aeroplane.

PROSPERITY HERE.

CLARENCE H. MACKAY ENTHUSES OVER WEST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Company, returned to New York today enthusiastic over the business outlook in the West.

"The people out there," he said, "are not watching the horizon for a return of prosperity; it already has arrived."

This belief of Mr. Mackay was based, he said, on observations made by him during an 8000-mile trip of inspection of his company's property.

"Eastern people who do not go West," said Mr. Mackay, "have no comprehension of its growth or development. San Francisco is a modern marvel of American courage and faith, and Seattle of American energy and skill.

"All the way through the Middle West signs were equally gratifying. I was told in Montana and North Dakota that the farmers have learned the lesson of modern industrial development through savings achieved by cooperation, and are forming great farming companies. The beneficial character of such agricultural progress cannot be overestimated. It brings the bone and sinew of the land into harmony with the cooperative spirit that has evolved our great manufacturing centers and put the United States so far ahead of all other countries that her commercial supremacy is unquestioned."

MYSTERY FOGS THIS ROMANCE.

San Francisco Girl Says She Will Wed Cudahy.

Packer's Sister Declares Miss Brewer Mistaken.

Meeting of Train in Chicago Accident, She Says.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The romance of Miss Nora Brewer of San Francisco and Edward Cudahy, Jr., of Omaha, which was supposed to have ended suddenly several months ago, when Mr. Cudahy developed tuberculosis of the bone of the heel, was revived in Chicago today in a cloud of mystery. Both of the young people are in Chicago and Miss Brewer in her room at the Virginia this evening said:

"My engagement has never been broken. Will you be good enough to make that clear. The rumros circulated by relatives at the time of the accident are false. We shall be married in the spring in San Francisco. At present I am on my way East with Mr. Cudahy's sister, Mrs. John B. Casserly of San Francisco."

With this final announcement the mystery began to develop. Mrs. Casserly had just made a statement to the effect that the engagement was not revived.

"There is absolutely nothing in it. Miss Brewer happens to be in Chicago on her way East. She is travelling with members of her own family. She will leave Sunday for Boston, where she expects to remain for some time. Yes, it is true that my brother is in Chicago, but that is accidental. I mean it is incidental that he is here at the time with Miss Brewer. I am his sister and I ought to know. He just dropped in for a few days, and you would oblige me greatly by saying either nothing at all or that the engagement is not renewed.

"He is just here for a day—for a day or two, that is all, and returns on Sunday."

"Excuse me for suggesting it," said the reporter, "but isn't it a singular coincidence that they are both in Chicago just for a day, and by accident it is the same day, when one comes from San Francisco and the other from Omaha, in view of the fact that they have been recently engaged?"

Mrs. Casserly emphatically denied that it was queer, and also that there was any significance to it.

"My brother is better," she concluded, "but is not doing so well as we should wish. He is up and about but he does no work."

ANOTHER ONE.

ALTON B. PARKER IS LAST GUESS.

WASHINGTON HEARS HE MAY BE PECKHAM'S SUCCESSOR.

Believed in Capital That President Taft Will Appoint a New York Democrat to Vacancy on Supreme Bench, Caused by Death of Late Associate Justice.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is believed here that President Taft in appointing a Supreme Court justice to succeed the late Rufus W. Peckham, will select a New York Democrat; Justice Peckham having been a Democrat and from New York.

One of the New Yorkers mentioned, Alton B. Parker, is most frequently discussed. Another is Louis Marshall, of the firm of Untermyer, Guggenheimer and Marshall, corporation lawyers of New York City. Mr. Marshall has fought both for and against corporations. His latest important court service was as attorney for Adolph Segel, in his suit against the Havermeyers.

Should President Taft go outside New York for his appointee, he may take Judge Horace H. Turton of Springfield, O., former Secretary of War Luke E. Wright of Tennessee, Judge George Gray of Delaware, Judge Howard Hollister of Cincinnati or Henry M. Hoyt, counselor for the State Department.

Appointments to the Supreme bench are usually made only during the session of Congress.

Vancouver Editor Plunges Over Thousand-Foot Cliff to Escape Bears. But Little Hurt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Plunging over an almost sheer precipice, a thousand feet in the Kootenai Mountains in an effort to escape three bears, F. H. Blochberger, editor of a German paper at Vancouver, rolled to the bottom, bringing up in the deep snow and finding himself little hurt.

Blochberger had started to visit his mining claims near Rossland. The snow along his road was three feet deep. Suddenly he espied three bears pursuing him and in his effort to get away from them plunged over the precipice.

The snow at the bottom had drifted to a depth of seven feet, and broke his fall. With great effort he finally dug himself out of the drift, and made his way to the railroad a few miles away.

Collector at New York Says He Has no Fear of Any Investigation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I have no fear of the outcome of any investigation that may be made of the New York customhouse," Collector William Loeb, Jr., said tonight. "I do not, in fact, think any investigation is really being planned."

The collector had just finished a dissection of a report from Washington that a group of powerful New York importers had planned to oust him from office through the medium of the New York delegation in Congress.

"In my belief there is not anything in it but talk," said Collector Loeb, smiling. "There is not a single thing in my administration concerning which I can be logically attacked.

"All the trouble in the customhouse was there when I took office. I am cleaning it up as fast as possible."

ON RECORD.

MRS. STETSON DECLARES SHE IS LOYAL TO MOTHER CHURCH.

Secretary of Ousted Christian Science Reader Distributes Statement in Which She Answers Charge That She Attempted to Invoke Evil by Thought Upon the Heads of Certain Persons.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Annoyance at a headline in a morning paper which said "Mrs. Stetson's followers defy the Mother church," today, prompted Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, the former first reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist, to write her own newspaper story and her own headlines. The latter read:

"Mrs. Stetson's answer. Declares her loyalty to the mother church. Emphatically denies Mr. Strickler's interpretations of her teachings."

These captions appear on a four-page typewritten statement which Mrs. Stetson's secretary distributed tonight in her home on Central Park, West, adjoining the church of which she was the recent leader. From that position she was deposed because of alleged "mental malpractice." Of this charge she was acquitted by a board of inquiry, and the verdict of exoneration was endorsed last week by the congregation of the church, but the controversy continues.

Mrs. Stetson reaffirms her allegiance to the mother church in the following words:

"I wish to state here most emphatically that I do not deny the mother church, neither do my followers."

Answering the charges that she had attempted to invoke evil by thought upon the heads of certain persons, she says of Virgil O. Strickler, the present first reader, her opponent:

"I was surprised that he (Strickler) seemingly could not grasp the metaphysical point that there is a difference between mental malpractice and self defense.

"I will give as an illustration what I understood the difference to be between malpractice and indispensable defense or self-protection:

"If I felt sure that I was being attacked, either ignorantly or maliciously by any person, I should fill my thoughts with the qualities of God, truth and love which alone renders one invincible to whatever proceeds from the carnal mind. From this fortress of defense I should speak to the person, addressing him by name, and then speak to the error which might be operating through the human mind, for which he has been an avenue. Then I should declare that malicious animal magnetism in all its phases and forms was powerless to work through his human personality, using him as an avenue to injure me or any one, or to hinder the progress of Christian Science. It is the superiority of spiritual power over material sense and is not malpractice."

There was an unusually large attendance at the First Church today, evidently in anticipation of some development in the controversy involving Mrs. Stetson and Strickler, who was a witness against her at Boston. It was announced after the service that a special meeting would be held at 3 p. m., November 15, "to take up the matter of the meeting held on November 4." This was the meeting that upheld Mrs. Stetson.

INSURGENT.

"POLICEMEN'S UNION" DEFIES THE AUTHORITIES OF CHICAGO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The organization known as the United Police of Chicago, but which is more aptly dubbed the "Policemen's Union," today at its usual meeting sundered all ties which bound it to the heads of the department and virtually declared its independence by ousting from office all present officials and electing an entire "insurgent" ticket, the members of which are avowedly hostile to control of the organization by the Mayor, the Chief of Police or any of the men responsible to the taxpayers for the way the police department does or fails to do its work.

Briefly, today's action means that hereafter the Mayor and Chief cannot discharge or discipline any member of the united police without calling down the wrath of the organization. It means the police will work to suit themselves, regardless of the public or their superior officers. It creates in Chicago a modern Pretorian Guard, which recognizes no rulers but those it chooses.

A similar organization in New York "got" Commissioner Bingham and removed every commissioner with one exception, who interfered with the organization. It means the police will work to suit themselves regardless of the public or their superior officers, and that the removal of any patrolman will bring down the wrath of the entire organization.

"SPORTS'" TOLL DEATH.

Nine Dead and Sixteen Wounded in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan This Season.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nine dead sixteen terribly wounded, that is the toll of the hunting season to date in Wisconsin and upper Michigan, and before the close of this month, the list will be largely increased if the accident of past seasons are any indication. Thus far only small game has been hunted, including ducks, patridges, prairie chickens, rabbits and squirrels.

Beginning on the 11th, the deer season opens, when the greater number of serious casualties are certain to occur.

TRY TO WRECK TWO TRAINS.

MOBILE (Ala.) Nov. 7.—Two attempts were made this afternoon to wreck passenger trains on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, near Bay Minette, Ala., where a bunch of cross ties was found hidden by a sharp curve. The engineer on train No. 1 reversed his engine, but not before he had run into the obstruction, causing slight damage to the engine. Passenger train No. 5 was given the same reception three hours before.

PRESIDENT TO TALK WITH TY COBB.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) Nov. 7.—President Taft and Tyrus R. Cobb of the Detroit baseball team, will have a chat at the Country Club here at 11 o'clock tomorrow. When Mr. Taft learned today that Cobb was here he sent word to the famous player that he would like to talk to him.

He lunched today at the home of Lander Thomas, with twenty-five residents of the city. During the luncheon Mr. Taft was presented with a silver loving cup as a remembrance of his golf days on the course of the Augusta Country Club. The cup was inscribed "eighteen holes—88," indicating the President's best record on the local links.

After luncheon the President had an auto ride, and returned to the home of Maj. Joseph B. Cumming, his host, for an afternoon tea arranged by Mr. Cumming.

Tomorrow the President will spend the morning at golf and at 1 o'clock he will open the Georgia-Carolina fair, leaving at 2:30 p.m. for Florence, S. C.

DIVA EXPECTS DIVORCE.

ST LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The decision in the divorce case of Grace Von Studdiford, prima donna, will be announced tomorrow morning by Judge G. A. Wurdeman of the Circuit Court at Clayton, St. Louis county. It is believed a decree will be granted. The case was tried last Friday, a week ago, and Judge Wurdeman took it under advisement. Von Studdiford did not appear to contest the case, and his attorney did not not cross-examine any of the witnesses. It is persistently rumored that the actress intends to remarry at an early date. Her brother denies this.

MARKET HURT BY HOLIDAYS.

Election in New York Interrupted Speculation.

Uncertainty Over the Money Rate Acts as Check.

Sensational Rise in Cotton Causes Disquietude.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The election holiday in New York and the usual November holiday in London and Paris caused considerabl einterruption to the course of events in the stock market last week. The pelting tendency of the speculation was owing partly also to the continued uncertainty over the position in the money market. The result was to throw some check upon stock market activities.

Commercial and industrial advices were so highly favorable, however, as to maintain a firm undertone in the stock market. Interest was centered on foreign money markets. The opinion persists in the London banking world that American borrowing for stock speculation has much to do with the pressure upon banking resources in London.

The small increase in the loans of the New York banks which followed the advances in the official discount rate of the bank of England fostered a conviction that American credits in London had been disturbed in one quarter only to find relodgment in another. The impression was conveyed that further protective measures by the Bank of England would be resorted to. The early effect was lessened when the imperial Bank of Germany and later the Bank of England left their discount rates undisturbed. The interior demand for currency continued.

On the industrial side were reiterated reports of the unparalleled state of the iron and steel industry. The copper industrials, also, were responsive to reports of some large sales of the metal, and to reports of negotiations of closer relations between the great copper producers.

The speculaion in cotton caused disquietude in financial circles. The rising tide of railroad earnings was reflected in the reports for September. The large volume of bank clearings the country over reflects the activity of all branches of the trade.

TAFT NOW ON MAP.

Newest Town in Kansas With Population of Three, Named After the President.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Taft is the newest town in Kansas. It was named after the President. It is located five miles west of Winsley, on the Santa Fé. At present it has a population of three people. They are telegraph operators. There is not a house nor store building in the town yet. The operators work eight-hour shifts, and do their eating and sleeping at Kinsley.

When President Taft made his campaign tour through Kansas last year he came in on the Santa Fé. Five miles west of Kinsley the train came to a stop at a block signal. Three farmers in adjoining fields came over and greeted the President.

After the train departed they had a conference. One of them suggested: "Let's call this place Taft and start a town here."

The others agreed. The Santa Fé was sounded and promised to put "Taft" on the map, so the new time cards show Taft, Kansas.

SPLIT OVER UNCLE JOE.

Insurgents in Kansas Swear They Will Knife Anything With the "Taft-Cannon Label."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Is the national platform of the Republican party, as interpreted by the President and a majority of citizens, the party's creed? What is a Republican?

These two questions are stirring as never before the Republican voters of Kansas. They deeply concern United States Senator Bristow, Gov. Stubbs, Congressman Murdock and other "insurgents."

Kansas Republican rebellion against Aldrich, Cannon and others has progressed far enough to insure a contest between the factions on the right to a place on the party ballot in next year's primary election. Republicans who stand with the President and the national administration openly declare they will support straight-out Democrats in preference to an insurgent Republican, who is but an assistant Democrat.

The followers of Bristow and Stubbs are equally bitter, and swear they "will knife any Republican bearing the Taft-Cannon label."

This means, possibly, a gain of five Democratic Congressman from Kansas.

IT'S BLESSED TO STRUGGLE.

John D. Rockefeller Tells Sunday-school It Is a Good Thing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (Ohio) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "It's a blessed thing to struggle," John D. Rockefeller told the pupils of Euclid-avenue Baptist Church this morning at the close of lesson. Almost always he gives a little talk to the pupils when he attends Sunday-school.

"I've been struggling for sixty years," said Mr. Rockefeller. "My first struggle was when I learned to swim, and I have been at it ever since. It is a good thing for one to have to fight his way through life. Every day I read about people who are struggling for this or that aim in life, and I feel that it is a blessed thing to struggle."

OH, DEAR

HIGHER-UP ASTOR CO-RESPONDENT.

MRS. HILL RETURNS FROM EUROPE AND GETS SHOCK.

Sheepshead Bay Belle Denies She Ever Accompanied the Colonel to Havana and Other Southern Points and Hints That a "Lady" in Four Hundred Is Guilty Party.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Roberta Halsey Corwin-Hill, accompanied by her sister, Miss Ruth Menges, returned home unexpectedly today, after a prolonged visit to Paris.

Mrs. Hill's return will tend to revive the story, insistent at times, smothered at other periods, that she is the person named in the separation suit filed by Mrs. John Jacob Astor.

"Dear me, no," said the Mrs. Hill on the pier of the French line today, after the La Savoie had docked. "I have not anything to do with those proceedings. I have not been summoned as a witness. Neither do I expect to be. What could I tell?

"I as a co-respondent?" she went on. "I am simply a passing friend of Col. Astor."

"But rumor declares," said the reporter, "that Mrs. Astor had named you in her bill of divorce."

"I have heard rumors, too," Mrs. Hill replied, "and they concern a woman, a lady, if you please, occupying a station in society—much higher than I ever expect to attain."

Mrs. Hill denied that she had ever accompanied Col. Astor to Havana, to the Isle of Pines, to Europe, to Philadelphia or elsewhere, as gossip has placed her as having so done.

"Col. Aster was no more to her than other acquaintances," she said.

THE NEWS OF THE PACIFIC SLOPE.

ACTORS GET VEGETABLES.

Stanford Students Felt Company Producing "Three Weeks" at Palo Alto.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 6.—Seventy-five Stanford students, bunched together in the gallery of the Palo Alto operahouse, bombarded with decayed vegetables the actors of a traveling company producing "Three Weeks," last night. The volley was so fierce that the curtain had to be rung down. One thespian received a tomato between his eyes.

The town constable was summoned and, after carefully looking over the crowd, singled out an innocent freshman and arrested him. The students followed the officer and his captive to the police headquarters, swatting the "cop" with their surplus of garden products. The freshman was released after he had convinced the police judge that he had no part in the disturbance. After the unruly students had left the operahouse the play was resumed, although in the meantime nearly all the people in the audience had gone home.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A small orange grove of a dozen trees from Fair Oaks colony in this county is being unrooted, under the direction of President D. W. Carmichael of the local Chamber of Commerce, to be shipped, with other exhibits, for display at the National Live-stock Men's Association convention at Chicago in a few weeks. Men will be sent along with the trees to keep them in good shape while bearing fruit. From Chicago the orchard will be taken to the Omaha Corn Fair and other midwinter attractions in the East.

GOVERNMENT ORDERS YUMA IRRIGATION WORK FINISHED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 7.—Dispatches received by the chief engineer of the Yuma project, Francis L. Sellew, from Washington today, authorized the immediate resumption of the government work, which has been in abeyance for several months.

As a consequence a force will commence sinking the shaft for the syphon under the Colorado tomorrow.

It is definitely stated that the project, which is already 70 per cent. completed, will be finished before any stoppage of work ensues.

This will mean that by this time next year water will be flowing through the canals, and irrigating 30,000 acres of rich land in the Yuma Valley.

severing active connection with the National Guard. Nothing was heard of the order for many months, and it was presumed it would pass without any action until Milliken's announcement. The retiring captain has been guardsman since 1896, except during the Spanish-American when he was in the regular army. Second Lieutenant James E. Easterbrook is temporarily in command, until Milliken's affairs are finally concluded.

Civil Engineer With Prominent Connections in Denver, Declared by Police to Have Deserted Wife in Tacoma and Fled to San Francisco With Another Woman.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Said to have left behind him a trail of broken hearts and worthless checks, J. B. Mitchell, civil engineer with prominent connections in Denver who gained ready entree into exclusive circles of San Francisco during his brief sojourn here, is believed by the police to have fled, and a score of angry victims have begun search for him. With him, say the authorities here, was a handsome woman, and it was his infatuation for her that caused him to desert his wife in Tacoma six weeks ago, and come to California.

Mitchell's sudden departure from Denver six months ago is said to be due to the charge that he was implicated in false affidavits in connection with the acquisition of coal lands for the railroad company by which he was employed.

From Denver he went to Tacoma, where he is said to have borrowed large sums from business men. He also operated in Portland and Seattle in the same way, and deserted his wife in Tacoma after passing a number of worthless checks.

He arrived in San Francisco six weeks ago and lived at the St. Francis Hotel.

He devoted himself to several handsome women he met at the hotel and when out with one of these he found himself short of funds. He borrowed $37.50 and gave a check for the amount on a Tacoma bank, which was returned, protested. After two weeks he removed to a smaller hotel where he victimized many people. He always had liberal tips for the waiters and spent money liberally in tenderloin resorts.

SPOKANE RANTERS TO BEGIN AGAIN.

WILL RESUME STREET DEMONSTRATIONS TODAY.

Rank and File of the Imprisoned I.W.W. Members Still on Starvation Strike, But Their Leaders, Also in Jail, Are Eating of the Best to Be Had.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 7.—No attempts at street speaking were made by the Industrial Workers of the World today, but at meetings in their hall it was announced that street demonstrations would be resumed tomorrow.

Although the rank and file of the Industrial Workers of the World prisoners in the City Jail still refuse to eat in the hope of breaking their imprisonment by the starvation strike, the police say that the leaders, confined in a cell near their comrades, do not indulge in any such self-sacrificing methods. Three meals of a little better than the standard jail quality are brought to them each day and eaten.

Today some of the main body of prisoners shouted across the corridor to the leaders: "We're on starvation strike over here. Are you boys eating anything?"

"Certainly not," the answer came back.

"Well, the police say you're eating," persisted the others.

"Oh, well, you know what they are," said the others.

HAT GOES; LIFE LOST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Wissemann, a wealthy liquor dealer of this city, met a tragic death in an automobile accident at the Canvasback Gun Club's preserve twelve miles from Sacramento, last evening. His auto turned a complete somersault, throwing him on his head and breaking his neck. He died shortly afterward. His son, George Wissemann, Jr., a Japanese servant and Ed McKee a local realty man, who was operating the machine, escaped with only a slight shake up.

McKee was driving to the hunting grounds to set out decoys for the day's shooting, when speeding at a fast clip, his hat blew off, causing him in some manner to let the machine get out of his control and turn completely over.

FALLS, LOSES MEMORY.

OAKLAND MAN'S EXPERINECE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rendered insensible by a fall on the streets here, J. A. Duthoul of Fresno, was found, when restored, to have completely lost all memory of his whereabouts, his past life and even his name. He was identified by means of papers in his possession and other documents on him showed he had worked as a switchman in California. He could not remember the time of his arrival in this city, had no remembrance of falling on the street could not recognize any place in the town and believed he was yet in Oakland. He was placed in the hands of the county physician, who sent him to the County Hospital for treatment.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 7.—The body of Charles W. Athony, the Stanford student who was drowned in the bay a week ago while inspecting construction work on the Dumbarton bridge, was picked up today near the scene of the accident.

Hope Soon to Reopen Tunnel.

REDDING, Nov. 7.—It is estimated by railroad officials at the caved tunnel at Coram will be reopened by Wednesday at latest. A steam shovel is being used at the southern end of the tunnel where the cave occurred, and the workers entered the tunnel proper today, previous work having been confined to an open cut approach. A force of thirty carpenters is at work framing timbers for the reconstruction of the caved part of the tunnel.

BEGINS LAWMAKING THURSDAY.

Canadian Parliament to Consider Best Way of Building the Proposed Dominion Navy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Nov. 7.—The Canadian Parliament will open next Thursday, and the session probably will continue for six months. The chief item of business on the programme will be the bill under which the new Canadian navy will be constituted.

The tariff will be discussed, though legislation in this direction is not expected aside from the bill to confirm the Franco-Canadian treaty. The possibility of the maximum provisions of the Payne tariff bill being imposed on Canadian goods if France is put on more favorable tariff relations with Canada than is the United States will cause serious talk. A scattering of members on both sides will press the government to retaliate.

The Canadian banking act and the insurance act will be stiffened in the direction of greater security.

HUGE WEALTH IN BOGS.

Middle Canada Has Enormous Fuel Supply of Peat, Declares Director of Mines.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The immense potential value of the 37,000 square miles of peat bogs, that have been located in the middle provinces of Canada is pointed out in a report prepared by Dr. Eugene Haanel, director of mines, covering the work of the new government peat bog and fuel testing plant recently established in Ottawa.

While both Eastern and Western Canada have immense coal areas, the middle provinces of the Dominion are practically dependent on the United States for all fuel for domestic and industrial purposes. The value of the anthracite coal alone now imported annually from the United States is over $10,000,000.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragette, today addressed a large audience here. Dr. Howard Kelly of the Johns Hopkins Medical School, who had been announced as the presiding officer, failed to appear, and his place was taken by the Rev. H. M. Wharton.

Mrs. Pankhurst was introduced by Mrs. Ada Smith Lang, who as a candidate of the socialist party for the State Legislature, was defeated at the recent election. The speaker devoted herself to a description of the movement in England, and of the earnestness of its advocates.

DEMON RACERS OVER DESERT SMASH RECORDS AND CARS.

Little Buick Wins First Leg to Colorado River in Remarkable Time—Franklin, Dorris, Elmore and Kisselkar Disabled and Quit, While Ford Is Handicapped by Accident.

The order of finish of the desert racers at Ehrenburg, and the time of the cars at the checking points were:

Isotta—Poismans, Fenner and Herrick driving. Reached Ehrenberg 10:47. Elapsed time 12 h. 47 m. Left Los Angeles, 10:00. Reached San Bernardino, 11:54; Mecca, 3:45; Dos Palmos, 5:34; Chuckawala, 8:20. Leaves Colorado River 4 o'clock this morning.

Buick—Joe and Louis Nikrent driving. Reached Ehrenburg, 12:07. Elapsed time, 12h. 7m. Left Los Angeles, 12:00. Reached San Bernardino, 2:21; Mecca, 6:50; Dos Palmos, 7:20; Chuckawala, 9:37. Leaves Colorado River 4:15 this morning.

Pennsylvania—Walter L. Vale and J. C. Coberly driving. Reached Ehrenburg, 12:49. Elapsed time, 14h. 19m. Left Los Angeles, 10:30. Reached San Bernardino, 1:05; Mecca, 6:20; Dos Palmos, 7:10; Chuckawala, 9:36. Leaves Colorado River 4:30 this morning.

Columbia—Harold Stone and Charles Illingsworth driving. Reached Ehrenburg, 2:47. Elapsed time, 15h. 2m. Left Los Angeles, 11:45. Reached San Bernardino, 1:30; Mecca, 7:30; Dos Palmos, 8:52; Chuckawala, 11:55. Leaves Colorado River 4:45 this morning.

Studebaker K. M. F.—Bert Latham and Herbert La Casse driving. Reached Ehrenburg, 3:06. Elapsed time, 15h. 51m. Left Los Angeles, 11:15. Reached San Bernardino, 1:09; Mecca, 6:20; Dos Palmos, 7:20; Chuckawala, 11:25. Leaves Colorado River 5:00 this morning.

Positions of remaining cars:

Franklin breaks housing of rear axle one mile east of Indio. Started from Mecca 4:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Los Angeles.

Ford breaks wheel nine miles west of Indio. Received new part late yesterday afternoon. Started before dusk for Mecca.

Kisselkar broke steering knuckle three miles east of Mecca, losing two hours after checking in at Mecca at 7:25 o'clock yesterday morning.

Elmore stripped transmission gears eight miles west of Chuckawala. Cannot finish.

Dorris in ditch four miles from east of Whitewater ranch. Out of race.

Five of the desert cars in the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race which started from the Hollenbeck Hotel Saturday night, reached Ehrenburg by 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Buick, one of the smallest cars in the contest, driven by Joe and Louis Nikrent, beat the Isotta and the other high-powered entries for the actual running time to the river control by forty minutes. Nikrent took his car through in 12h. 7h., smashing last year's record of 20h. 30m. by almost eight hours.

The Buick leads all the cars to the Colorado after one of the most remarkable drives over the worst roads in the country. Although Nikrent is to start fifteen minutes after Fenner and the Isotta this morning, he has forty minutes handicap over the fast Italian car in the last 186-mile dash, to Phoenix.

Fenner is conceded a good chance for first place, as his car is miles faster than the Buick. Fenner says a demon. His car was running perfectly. Like a baby's cradle the powerful car rolled through the chuckholes and washes. The long racer seemed balanced just right. Hamlin was hardly rocked in his seat as he hurled the fast machine over the rough roads.

DRIVES LIKE A STREAK.

Like a comet's streak the Franklin passed the Pennsylvania near Cucamonga, and the Dorris above Upland. Just beyond Whitewater, Hamlin passed the Elmore, which had a handicap of forty-five minutes over the air-cooled car. Rose driving the valveless entry asserted the Franklin car was running like a scared jackrabbit. Just beyond Indio the road lies level and comparatively smooth in a twelve-mile stretch to Mecca. Hamlin was minutes ahead of his schedule, but took a chance to widen this margin in saving time to Mecca.

His eagerness to push the Franklin cost Hamlin the race. A mile from Indio the Franklin was running with open at over sixty miles an hour. The long, lean racer traveled by bounds over the bumps. One bad chuckhole proved too hard a knock. In the roar of the race the driver heard a sharp snap. The housing of the rear axle had cracked and Hamlin was obliged to quit the race. He brought his car by relays into Mecca. Hamlin had simply outdriven the car.

The Elmore, driven by D. B. Rose, seemed a sure place winner with the Franklin down and out. Rose made a wonderful run to San Berdoo in a fraction over two hours. The run into Beaumont was made in better time than Rose had scheduled. Just before reaching Whitewater the E car bumping over the rough roads threw its hood, which spread like an aeroplane, and crashed within a few inches of Rose's face as the driver turned just a trifle to avoid another chuckhole. Cars following in the wake of the Elmore battered the tin cover into scrap heap.

LOSES EQUIPMENT.

Before the Elmore reached San Bernardino the full accessory equipment, including two extra tires, inner tubes, tool bag and lunch, was torn from its fastening behind the driver's seat and scattered over the road. Rose did not discover his loss till past San Berdoo. He heard the shovel rattling loose and finding the whole equipment gone, threw away the shovel.

Without extra tires, inner tubes or repair kit the Elmore forged ahead. It was a big handicap, yet Rose never faltered. He could not retrace the road. His only chance lay in keeping to his schedule.

Rose brought his car into Mecca at 5:04. The engine was responding at every turn of the throttle. George Dake, Clarence F. Smith and Dick Erskine relieved Rose and Rial. The trio of reserves had spent the night at Mecca. The evening before Smith and Fenner had reconnoitered for a couple of hours, seeking an easy circuit of the mudholes near the date farm east of the town. Smith knew the road like a book beyond, and the three new men started off confident of holding to the schedule.

The loss of the accessory box was somewhat a handicap, as the heavy kit gave needed weight on the rear axle in plowing through the sands. Still Dake and Erskine were two husky fellows who could add weight or get off and push as the occasion required.

CAR DIES GAME.

Things went all right with the Elmore till within sight of Chuckawala. Through the wretched roads east of Dos Palmos the valveless car had plunged unhesitatingly. Smith knew his car well. He knew better the bad spots, and he managed to bring his car through the gulches and washouts where the following cars balked.

Eight miles from Chuckawala the Elmore struck a big sand drift. Smith gave his car the throttle, but the transmission gearing was stripped almost clean. Smith and the Elmore were out of the race, after making the most uniformly successful run to the place of the accident of any of the cars.

The Pennsylvania was almost put out of the race in the very spot where the Elmore threw its accessory pack. Twelve miles from San Bernardino, at the turnoff of the Riverside road, a dozen autos had their powerful searchlights flashing a flood of light in the path of the coming racers.

Perhaps the spectators did not realize those glaring lights completely blinded the drivers in the racing machines, yet their forgetfulness almost proved most costly. At the turn where the Elmore banged through the ditch and lost its box, followed the Pennsylvania with Vale driving like a fiend. He saw the box and tires scattered in the middle of the road only when almost on top of them.

BRAKE IS BROKEN.

Vale threw on the brake with a tremendous push. The strain was too much for the connecting rods, and the mechanism was broken in three places. Vale patched the parts together with baling wire as best he could. But the brake was practically useless. An hour and a half of valuable time was lost in the ditch before the Pennsylvania jumped into the race again for San Bernardino.

Near Whitewater, while plunging through the sand dunes along the base of Whitewater Mountain, the car threw one of the front lamps into the brush. The trip through the darkness to Indio was made with one lamp. It was a wonder Vale didn't get into the ditch with his one-eyed demon.

The sun was just rising when the Pennsylvania reached Mecca. It was the third machine to reach the desert checking point following the Isotta, Elmore and Franklin. Vale and Coberly were exhausted from the wrenching drive through Whitewater, yet they never complained. Their car had performed wonderfully well with the handicap of the broken brake, and the boys were determined to keep going.

Hot coffee and a sandwich raised their spirits. Stopping just long enough to take on fresh supplies of oil and gasoline Vale and Coberly again jumped into the race, leaving the group of watchers sprinkled with alkali as the car churned the road toward the date farm.

WRECKED ROADS.

The run to the river was made in a little over six hours, which bettered the time of the Isotta by nearly half an hour. The little car was holding up much better than even Vale had hoped for. Through the washed-out roads beyond Dos Palmos and into Chuckawala the little racer plunged. In places, Coberly had to get out and push, but the Pennsylvania showed more driving power through the sand than ever the fast Isotta. Fenner had, and Poismans had beaten all the cars, but the Franklin, down the first leg to Mecca, but, in those wretched roads beyond the date farm, the sands sucked the Isotta hard.

Ten minutes after the Pennsylvania pulled into Mecca the Studebaker, E. M.F., and the Buick, scarcely a minute apart, plowed through the alkali, inches deep in the road, to the town store. Bert Latham had driven the sturdy racer to the desert control in seven hours. The fast car was performing wonderfully well—above expectations—and in spite of a delay. Lord had been forced to stop over an hour at San Bernardino getting a new radiator. Latham had brought his car, in actual running time, almost as fast as Poismans had driven the Isotta.

LATHAM TAKES REST.

Herbert La Casse relieved Lord, taking the wheel of the Studebaker out of Mecca, giving Latham a much-needed rest. Bert was to ride and drive through the whole race. The trip through the sands from Whitewater would try the heart of the grittiest driver in broad daylight. In the dark the drive is infinitely more hazardous and trying. The roads were strange to La Casse a good deal of the way. Hamlin had tipped the best passage to the Studebaker driver, but to follow the tip was the difficult part, and La Casse lost many minutes breaking his way through to the springs.

The Studebaker reached Ehrenburg at 3:06 in the afternoon, after a terrific drive through the sands. The E.M. F. showed unwarranted power in bucking the sands and boulders. Much time was lost, but Latham has a fine chance to finish inthe money. The Studebaker is forty-nine minutes behind the Columbia, and has beaten all previous marks made by the sturdy little car. Latham reached the river after passing the Franklin, Dorris, Ford, Kisselkar and Elmore. The running time of the E.M.F. was 15h. 51m.

A BUICK SURPRISE.

While the Studebaker was taking on fresh supplies the Buick tore around the corner, and, slowing only to give the checker the word, rushed on toward Dos Palmos.

The appearance of the little Buick took the Mecca watchers wholly by surprise. Scarcely one of the men had expected to see the Buick even reach Mecca. Joe Nikrent had not only driven a wonderful race to Mecca, but he was showing he could probably beat the time of all the cars to the river.

Never has there been so much interest in a race. The number of cars, the rivalry between the drivers, and the wretched condition of the roads places the run as the greatest in the West.

The road is a whole lot worse than last year. Along the foothills, near Whitewater and below Chuckawalla, the passage is almost impassable. It is marvelous what the cars are standing in this severe test. There are a thousand places along the course where the racers could easily be wrecked. Beyond the Colorado into Quartzite the rains have gullied the mountain roars till a car has little chance of getting through.

All records have been smashed to Ehrenberg. The time to the Colorado last year was 20h. The Buick made the run yesterday in 12h. 7 m. The record to Phoenix last year was 30h. 26m. This year it should be made in from 17h to 20h.

The Franklin "Limping" Into Mecca.

This little car beat the Isotta to the Colorado River.

he is sure to reach the Arizona terminus first, but he may lose the race on elapsed time.

The Isotta was driven to Mecca by Poismans in the record-breaking time of 5h. 47m., the Fenner car pulling in to the desert station at 3:47 o'clock, two hours before daybreak. The car was working perfectly. It looked like a sure winner. Fenner, fresh from a good night's rest, joined the crew at Mecca, riding in a most precarious position, hugging the equipment stacked back of the driver. The Italian car was the first to reach Ehrenburg at 10:47 o'clock, making the run from Mecca to the river in seven hours. The Buick beat this time by 1h. 15m.

BREAKS RECORD AND AXLE.

The Franklin came to grief a mile east of Indio, when the fast air-cooled entry broke the housing of the rear axle. After Ralph Hamlin had made the fastest time of any of the cars to San Bernardino and Beaumont, Hamlin brought his disabled car limping into Mecca shortly after 9 o'clock. New parts were rushed to the Franklin on the first train from Los Angeles, but Hamlin had lost over twelve hours, and after adjusting the injured car, started from Mecca for Los Angeles at 4:55 yesterday afternoon.

Hamlin drove the powerful Franklin into San Bernardino in the remarkable time of 1h. 34m., but two minutes slower than the intercity record. Hamlin drove regardless of the speed restrictions within the city limits. He figured that with election day a week off he was safe in—said the rules.

Leaving the Hollenbeck at 11 o'clock, Hamlin roared through the Gate City at 12:34 o'clock Sunday morning. The twenty miles to Beaumont was negotiated in 28m. Hamlin was driving like

TO HAVE FILTRATION PLANT.

Water Committee of Sacramento Trustees Approves Plans Drawn by Berkeley Professor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Water Committee of the Trustees today agreed to approve the plans for a municipal filteration plant, drawn by Prof. C. H. Hyde of the University of California, and the question of bonding the city for $866,000, to prosecute the work will be submitted to the people at a special election to be called soon.

The plans call for a filtration plant embodying the best points of mechanical filters in large cities in the East. The initial capacity will be 24,000,000 gallons daily, or enough to accommodate 100,000 people. The buildings will be constructed of concrete and the pumping machinery will be the best obtainable. The plant will be so built that individual vats of units may be added as the growth of the city requires.

The site for the plant is in the extreme northwestern part of the city and adjoins the Sacramento River, whence the supply is taken. It contains twenty-six acres.

BIG ONES BEATEN.

PHILLIES LOSE FINAL CONTEST.

Fine Pitchers' Battle Between Morgan and Thorsen.

Davis Quits and the Angels Score Winning Run.

Daley Does High Class Work in Fielding Line.

Los Angeles, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Umpire Toman saved the Philadelphias a shut out yesterday by making them a present of their one run in the final game with Los Angeles but as Davis of the visitors gave the Angels one of their two runs on a play that even a bush leaguer would be ashamed to ask the human race to stand for, the contest was inclined to be a give-away. It was a very good one for all that but the score should have been 1 to ask the human race to stand for.

Thorsen and Morgan were the heavers and both did excellent work, holding down the hits for each team to five and the flinging was so good that there was but one really fine fielding stunt in the game and this was made by Daley, who was easily the bright star of the game. He had four outs and two assists and figured in a double play at third base on a fine throw from center field.

In the sixth inning, with two out and Oldring on third from his own single and steal and Easterly's wild throw over second base, Collins tried his best to put the ball over the center fence for a home run but the best he could do was to get the pill near the Chuter gate. As soon as he swung at the ball Daley began running toward the center fence and by fast sprinting just managed to grab the ball as it reached the fence and bumping into the boards as he made the catch. It was a great grab and was loudly cheered by the big crowd of fans.

In the second inning Heitmuller slammed the ball to center and tried to reach second on the play but was easily thrown [illegible] Daley. Again in [illegible] left [illegible] this [illegible]

[redacted]

The locals [illegible] another hard proposition in Beaver Morgan and the third inning was the only one in which they stung him deep enough to get a run. Daley led off with a single to center, stole second and was caught at third on Dillon's bounce to Morgan. With Dillon on first, Ross hit to right, sending Dillon to third. Beall followed with a hot grounder to Oldring at third, who juggled it an instant and Dillon scored. In stepping back toward the bag at first to take the expected throw, Davis tripped backward and fell and then stretched out full length on the ground.

While he lay there Oldring shot the ball to first base and (with nothing to stop it, it bounded to the right bleacher fence and Ross scored, Beall landed on third but died there, for the next two men were easy outs.

Dillon played first base for the first time in months and was given the glad hand when he appeared at the plate to bat the first time. He had to quit in the fifth inning, however, owing to an injury to his ankle received in running around the bases in the third inning. Orendorff took his place at first and Easterly went in to catch.

After the fourth inning the pitchers settled down and there was nothing more doing in the way of runs.

The score:

VISALIA, Nov. 7.—Orvall Overall, who has been on the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs for several years, celebrated his home-coming today by pitching for the "Yannigans" in a benefit game against the Visalia Pirates. Overall struck out fifteen men, allowed but four hits and landed on the ball for two three-base hits, either one of which would have been a home run had he not loafed on the bases. He pitched only 92 balls in nine innings, and the Yannigans won, 5 to 0.

NEW AIRSHIP ALMOST READY.

PORTLAND MEN ASSERT THEY HAVE REAL THING.

Coming Flyer Is Combination of Three Different Types and Will Be Fitted With New Model Engines and Propellers—Sides Will Be Marked With Aeroplanes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Built solely with private capital and destined, to cost when completed $75,000, an airship is taking shape in one of the buildings on the old exposition grounds here.

E. P. Preble and J. J. Rekar are the builders. They decline to reveal the identity of their backers. Already the frame of the airship is nearly completed. It is a cigar-shaped cylinder 205 feet long. It is intended by the builders to have the airship ready for its first flight within the next six weeks.

"When the new ship is completed it will be a combination of balloon, aeroplane and helicopter," said Mr. Preble, "with new model engines and propellors for lifting and driving it.

"Seven hydrogen gas bags for lifting the ship will be placed in separate compartments in such a way as to keep the ship balanced in case any of them are damaged. A new feature will be an equalizer that will balance the supply of gas in them all and at the same time prevent the breaking of any from injuring the supply of gas in another.

"On the sides of the ship, running its length, will be aeroplanes. These will steady the ship and be useful in case anything happens to cause the gas to escape to too great an extent. They will also be used in gliding from a high elevation to save energy."

GLENN CURTISS TO RACE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI Nov. 7.—The horse will be relegated to the background at Latonia track for three days this week, the regular races being suspended to give place to contests between various types of modern air craft.

The days set apart for the aviation meeting are November 12, 13 and 14, and the entries include Glenn Curtiss, who will use the same machine with which he made his remarkable flight at Rheims, Charles F. Willard of Philadelphia; Roy Knabenshue, Lincoln Beachey and Cromwell Dixon. The last three will exhibit in dirigibles.

The principal event will be the race between Curtiss and Willard in aeroplanes for a cup offered by the local capitalist.

It is understood that the meeting this week will be the opening move to secure for Cincinnati the international aviation meet for 1910.

ITHACA (N. Y.) Nov. 7.—An aero club with 100 members has been organized at Cornell University for the study of aerial navigation. Several aeroplanes are being constructed by the club members.

MOTOR RIDERS TAKE TUMBLES.

Blaylock in Thrilling Act on Coliseum Track.

De Rosier Beats Samuelson in Feature Event.

Mitchell Grabs Eight-Mile Race for "Pros."

Six thousand spectators got more thrills than they needed at the Coliseum motorcycle races yesterday when Blaycock and Graves went into the fence in the six-mile amateur free-for-all dash. Neither of the men was seriously injured.

The spill came as the riders were swinging into the second turn on the sixth lap, traveling seventy miles an hour. All four riders were bunched, when Blaycock, in trying to take the lead from Graves, struck the latter's rear wheel when crowded close to the fence. Blaylock went over, sliding flat along the track for several rods, then upshot against the fence and diagonally down across the track again to the ground. Graves could not get control of his machine and went over a little farther along, coming off the track without the spectacular features that marked Blaylock's fall. Balke and Ward, the other two entries, came through clear. The race was then called off.

Balke on a Merkel, jumped into the lead at the start of the race. Ward on a Thor, taking second place. Balke held his position for three laps, when Graves got his Indian past with a big burst of speed. For two laps and a half Graves kept in front. Ward being second and Balke third. Then Blaylock brought the second Indian from the rear, circling the bunch on the back stretch with a great burst of speed. Graves swung up close to the fence to avoid being passed, Ward taking the lead as the accident occurred, with Balke a few yards behind. Good luck pulled Balke past the mix-up without a fall. Blaylock had one hand badly lacerated and the thumb dislocated, but was not otherwise hurt. Graves escaped with only a "shaking up."

The crowd was treated to a great exhibition in the big event of the afternoon. The professional match between Samuelson and Jake de Rosier of New York. Three ten-mile heats were necessary to decide the event. De Rosier winning. The deciding heat was the fastest of the day, De Rosier making the ten miles in 8 min. 38 sec. This is thirty seconds behind the track record for the distance.

De Rosier won the first heat in a spectacular finish taking the lead from Samuelson on the straightaway and winning by less than two feet. Throughout the race the men had alternated in the lead, neither at any time having a lead of more than ten yards. In the second heat the first was duplicated, with the positions reversed. Samuelson had the necessary burst of speed to take him ahead in the last few rods, and won by a foot. The time for the first heat was 8m. 56 1-5s., and Samuelson won the second ten miles in 8m. 41 1-5s. De Rosier was handicapped at the end of the second heat by a flat tire, the wind going out on the last lap, compelling him to finish almost on the rims.

The third and deciding heat went to De Rosier by four yards. De Rosier took the lead at the beginning of the race, but was passed by Samuelson on the third lap. Samuelson kept up high speed for several laps, until he headed the Frenchman by over fifty yards. In four laps more, however, De Rosier had made up the distance, and took the lead again, keeping it to the finish. Samuelson was thirty yards behind at the eighth mile, but pulled up close at the end. De Rosier had the race well in hand, and appeared to have sped to spare as he came across the tape.

All three heats kept the crowd pleased, Samuelson getting a big ovation when he annexed the second heat. De Rosier was also a popular winner, while the closeness of the contests kept the spectators on their feet half the time. For nearly half of the first two laps the Merkel and the Indian were lapped.

MITCHELL WINS EASILY.

A. Mitchell on his Thor had a walk-away in the eight-mile professional race, winning from Whittler of Salt Lake. De Rosier's partner, by three-quarters of a lap in 7m. 38s. Samuelson won third money, as De Rosier, the fourth entry, did not compete. Samuelson could not get the Merkel to work well and dropped out before the finish of the race. Mitchell took the lead on the fourth lap and held it to the finish, steadily increasing his lead.

Samuelson came to the front again in the final event of the afternoon, against the same opponents. The twelve-mile open event was cut to four miles, with only the three entries. Mitchell took the lead in the first lap, Samuelson going past him on the second. During the fourth lap Mitchell again took the lead, but could not hold it. The fifth and sixth laps went to Samuelson by inches, and the seventh and eighth to Mitchell by a narrow margin. After the eighth Samuelson came into the lead and was not headed again. The time given was 3m. 7s., but later the officials declared the race one lap short. Whittler was never a factor.

The five-mile single-cylinder amateur race was a good one, and was won by Balke, after Graves had led throughout the seventeen laps. The time was 4m. 28 3-5s. Balke jumped into the lead at the start, but was passed by Graves on the second lap. Graves kept his Indian ahead until the end of the last lap, with Balke sticking close to his rear wheel more than half the way. On the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth laps the two leaders were practically abreast. On the final turn Balke again came even, and poked ahead for a win at the line. Ward, the only other contestant, had trouble with the Thor all the way along. His start was poor, and after the race was half over he dropped steadily behind. Both leaders passed him before the finish.

In the amateur four-mile handicap, Kittle won from scratch in 3m 48s., Graves second, was forty yards back, and the same distance ahead of Knappe. Loge, one-half lap, could not get his new Indian in working order and was distanced.

RACES SHORTENED.

On account of the accident in the sixth event, there were only two contestants in the amateur twelve-mile open. The race was shortened to six miles, and went to Ward and the Thor in 5m 16s. Balke made the race hot for the first eight laps, when things went wrong with the Merkle, and he dropped steadily back. Ward took the first three laps when he was passed by Balke, after three tied rounds in which neither rider had any advantage. Balke held his lead through the sixth and seventh rounds, when Ward repassed him. After one more close lap the Merkle dropped back, and the race was practically over.

The amateur four-mile for single-cylinder stock machines, was won by Knappe, Neiderhauser taking second, and Schram third. The race was close between the two leaders, with Schram ten yards back. Time 4m 59 1-3s.

Summary:

RANGERS WIN AGAIN.

Defeat Thistles for Third Straight Time in Fast and Exciting Game of Soccer Football.

The Rangers won their third straight game from the Thistles in the Fiesta Park soccer match yesterday afternoon, by 6 goals to 0.

Both clubs put in their strongest available men, as each team was particularly desirous of winning the game. The Thistles wanted to even up for the last two contests, while the Rangers desired to show a clean lead. The game showed the Ranger aggregation to be the stronger.

During the first half neither team was able to score, the ball being in Ranger territory more than on Thistle ground. A. Mitchell, captain of the Rangers, was on the side-lines during the last twenty minutes of play, forcing the remaining ten men of his team to play on the defensive. The Rangers were also troubled by the sun and wind.

In the second period, with the sun and wind at their backs, the Rangers scored regularly. A. Mitchell went back into the game in spite of the bad twist of his ankle, and played brilliantly. Within ten minutes of the opening of the half he had scored three successive goals. Meldrum shot the fourth, after a slightly longer interval, and Smith the fifth and sixth, about five minutes intervening between each of the last three scores.

For the Rangers Archie Mitchell was the star, his work after his return to the game being the best seen this season. J. Mitchell also did noticeably well, while Shepherd put up a strong game, with him at full-back. For the Thistles Shand put up the strongest game among the backs. Jarvis, full-back for the Rangers, did unusually well, while Burden of the Thistles, though putting up a strong defense, did not shine as much as in some of the previous matches.

The line-up:

Rangers.		Thistles.
Jarvis	goal	Burden
J. Mitchell	full-back	Todd
Shepherd	full-back	Kitchen
Meldrum	half-back	Carleton
C. Burleigh		Tom Higgins
E. Barton		Shand

BIG ONES BEATEN.

PHILLIES LOSE FINAL CONTEST.

Fine Pitchers' Battle Between Morgan and Thorsen.

Davis Quits and the Angels Score Winning Run.

Daley Does High Class Work in Fielding Line.

Los Angeles, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Umpire Toman saved the Philadelphias a shut out yesterday by making them a present of their one run in the final game with Los Angeles but as Davis of the visitors gave the Angels one of their two runs on a play that even a bush leaguer would be ashamed to ask the human race to stand for, the contest was inclined to be a give-away. It was a very good one for all that but the score should have been 1 to ask the human race to stand for.

Thorsen and Morgan were the heavers and both did excellent work, holding down the hits for each team to five and the flinging was so good that there was but one really fine fielding stunt in the game and this was made by Daley, who was easily the bright star of the game. He had four outs and two assists and figured in a double play at third base on a fine throw from center field.

In the sixth inning, with two out and Oldring on third from his own single and steal and Easterly's wild throw over second base, Collins tried his best to put the ball over the center fence for a home run but the best he could do was to get the pill near the Chutes gate. As soon as he swung at the ball Daley began running toward the center fence and by fast sprinting just managed to grab the ball as it reached the fence and bumping into the boards as he made the catch. It was a great grab and was loudly cheered by the big crowd of fans.

In the second inning Heitmuller slammed the ball to center and tried to reach second on the swat but was easily thrown out at second by Daley. Again in the fourth Davis flew to Daley who returned the ball to Smith at third in time to double Collins. Altogether the little center fielder was very near the whole show.

The excitement commenced in the first inning for Philadelphia. Strunk grounded out to Dillon at first and then Oldring and Collins hit to left. Coombs grounded to Delmas who forced Collins at second. Wheeler shot the ball to Dillon in the attempt to complete a double play and on this, Oldring ran too far off third base and was finally caught at the plate by Orendorff on a throw from Dillon.

Something did happen, however, in the fourth when the Phillies got their only run. Thorsen started the inning by soaking Oldring with the ball and Collins beat out a bouncing infield single. Coombs sacrificed, putting Oldring on third and Collins on second, and then Davis hit a long fly to Daley. Not being able to catch Oldring at the plate, Daley threw the ball to Smith at third and doubled Collins, completing the third out before Oldring scored. Umpire Toman did not think so and ordered the run to be scored and this decision prevented the Athletics from being shut out.

The locals were up against another hard proposition in heaver Morgan and the third inning was the only one in which they stung him deep enough to get a run. Daley led off with a single to center, stole second and was caught at third on Dillon's bounce to Morgan. With Dillon on first, Ross hit to right, sending Dillon to third. Beall followed with a hot grounder to Oldring at third, who juggled it an instant and Dillon scored. In stepping back toward the bag at first to take the expected throw, Davis tripped backward and fell and then stretched out full length on the ground.

While he lay there Oldring shot the ball to first base and (with nothing to stop it, it bounded to the right bleacher fence and Ross scored, Beall landed on third but died there, for the next two men were easy outs.

Dillon played first base for the first time in months and was given the glad hand when he appeared at the plate to bat the first time. He had to quit in the fifth inning, however, owing to an injury to his ankle received in running around the bases in the third inning. Orendorff took his place at first and Easterly went in to catch.

After the fourth inning the pitchers settled down and there was nothing more doing in the way of runs.

The score:

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VISALIA, Nov. 7.—Orvall Overall, who has been on the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs for several years, celebrated his home-coming today by pitching for the "Fannigans" in a benefit game against the Visalia Pirates.

Overall struck out fifteen men, allowed but four hits and landed on the ball for two three-base hits, either one of which would have been a home run had he not loafed on the bases. He pitched only 92 balls in nine innings, and the Fannigans won, 5 to 0.

NEW AIRSHIP ALMOST READY.

PORTLAND MEN ASSERT THEY HAVE REAL THING.

Coming Flyer Is Combination of Three Different Types and Will Be Fitted With New Model Engines and Propellors—Sides Will Be Marked With Aeroplanes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Built solely with private capital and destined to cost when completed $75,000, an airship is taking shape in one of the buildings on the old exposition grounds here.

E. P. Preble and J. J. Rekar are the builders. They decline to reveal the identity of their backers. Already the frame of the airship is nearly completed. It is a cigar-shaped cylinder 205 feet long. It is intended by the builders to have the airship ready for its first flight within the next six weeks.

"When the new ship is completed it will be a combination of balloon, aeroplane and helicopter," said Mr. Preble, "with new model engines and propellors for lifting and driving it.

"Seven hydrogen gas bags for lifting the ship will be placed in separate compartments in such a way as to keep the ship balanced in case any of them are damaged. A new feature will be an equalizer that will balance the supply of gas in them all and at the same time prevent the breaking of any from injuring the supply of gas in another.

"On the sides of the ship, running its length, will be aeroplanes. These will steady the ship and be useful in case anything happens to cause the gas to escape to too great an extent. They will also be used in gliding from a high elevation to save energy."

SHOW FOR AIR CRAFT.

GLENN CURTISS TO RACE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI Nov. 7.—The horse will be relegated to the background at Latonia track for three days this week, the regular races being suspended to give place to contests between various types of modern air craft.

The days set apart for the aviation meeting are November 12, 13 and 14, and the entries include Glenn Curtiss, who will use the same machine with which he made his remarkable flight at Rheims, Charles F. Willard of Philadelphia; Roy Knabenshue, Lincoln Beachey and Cromwell Dixon. The last three will exhibit in dirigibles.

The principal event will be the race between Curtiss and Willard in aeroplanes for a cup offered by the local capitalist.

It is understood that the meeting this week will be the opening move to secure for Cincinnati the international aviation meet for 1910.

NEW HIGH FLY CLUB.

ITHACA (N. Y.) Nov. 7.—An aero club with 100 members has been organized at Cornell University for the study of aerial navigation. Several aeroplanes are being constructed by the club members.

MOTOR RIDERS TAKE TUMBLES.

Blaylock in Thrilling Act on Coliseum Track.

De Rosier Beats Samuelson in Feature Event.

Mitchell Grabs Eight-Mile Race for "Pros."

Six thousand spectators got more thrills than they needed at the Coliseum motorcycle races yesterday when Blaycock and Graves went into the fence in the six-mile amateur free-for-all dash. Neither of the men was seriously injured.

The spill came as the riders were swinging into the second turn on the sixth lap, traveling seventy miles an hour. All four riders were bunched, when Blaycock, in trying to take the lead from Graves, struck the latter's rear wheel when crowded close to the fence. Blaylock went over, sliding flat along the track for several rods, then upshot against the fence and diagonally down across the track again to the ground. Graves could not get control of his machine and went over a little farther along, coming off the track without the spectacular features that marked Blaylock's fall. Balke and Ward, the other two entries, came through clear. The race was then called off.

Balke on a Merkel, jumped into the lead at the start of the race. Ward on a Thor, taking second place. Balke held his position for three laps, when Graves got his Indian past with a big burst of speed. For two laps and a half Graves kept in front. Ward being second and Balke third. Then Blaylock brought the second Indian from the rear, circling the bunch on the back stretch with a great burst of speed. Graves swung up close to the fence to avoid being passed, Ward taking the lead as the accident occurred, with Balke a few yards behind. Good luck pulled Balke past the mix-up without a fall. Blaylock had one hand badly lacerated and the thumb dislocated, but was not otherwise hurt. Graves escaped with only a "shaking up."

The crowd was treated to a great exhibition in the big event of the afternoon. The professional match between Samuelson and Jake de Rosier of New York. Three ten-mile heats were necessary to decide the event. De Rosier winning. The deciding heat was the fastest of the day, De Rosier making the ten miles in 8 min. 38 sec. This is thirty seconds behind the track record for the distance.

De Rosier won the first heat in a spectacular finish taking the lead from Samuelson on the straightaway and winning by less than two feet. Throughout the race the men had alternated in the lead, neither at any time having a lead of more than ten yards. In the second heat the first was duplicated, with the positions reversed. Samuelson had the necessary burst of speed to take him ahead in the last few rods, and won by a foot. The time for the first heat was 8m. 56 1-5s., and Samuelson won the second ten miles in 8m. 41 1-5s. De Rosier was handicapped at the end of the second heat by a flat tire, the wind going out on the last lap, compelling him to finish almost on the rims.

The third and deciding heat went to De Rosier by four yards. De Rosier took the lead at the beginning of the race, but was passed by Samuelson on the third lap. Samuelson kept up high speed for several laps, until he headed the Frenchman by over fifty yards. In four laps more, however, De Rosier had made up the distance, and took the lead again, keeping it to the finish. Samuelson was thirty yards behind at the eighth mile, but pulled up close at the end. De Rosier had the race well in hand, and appeared to have sped to spare as he came across the tape.

All three heats kept the crowd pleased, Samuelson getting a big ovation when he annexed the second heat. De Rosier was also a popular winner, while the closeness of the contests kept the spectators on their feet half the time. For nearly half of the first two laps the Merkel and the Indian were lapped.

MITCHELL WINS EASILY.

A. Mitchell on his Thor had a walk-away in the eight-mile professional race, winning from Whittier of Salt Lake. De Rosier's partner, by three-quarters of a lap in 7m. 38s. Samuelson won third money, as De Rosier, the fourth entry, did not compete. Samuelson could not get the Merkel to work well and dropped out before the finish of the race. Mitchell took the lead on the fourth lap and held it to the finish, steadily increasing his lead.

Samuelson came to the front again in the final event of the afternoon, against the same opponents. The twelve-mile open event was cut to four miles, with only the three entries. Mitchell took the lead in the first lap, Samuelson going past him on the second. During the fourth lap Mitchell again took the lead, but could not hold it. The fifth and sixth laps went to Samuelson by inches, and the seventh and eighth to Mitchell by a narrow margin. After the eighth Samuelson came into the lead and was not headed again. The time given was 3m. 7s., but later the officials declared the race one lap short. Whittier was never a factor.

The five-mile single-cylinder amateur race was a good one, and was won by Balke, after Graves had led throughout the seventeen laps. The time was 4m. 28 3-5s. Balke jumped into the lead at the start, but was passed by Graves on the second lap. Graves kept his Indian ahead until the end of the last lap, with Balke sticking close to his rear wheel more than half the way. On the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth laps the two leaders were practically abreast. On the final turn Balke again came even, and poised ahead for a win at the line. Ward, the only other contestant, had trouble with the Thor all the way along. His start was poor, and after the race was half over he dropped steadily behind. Both leaders passed him before the finish.

In the amateur four-mile handicap, Kittle won from scratch in 3m 46s., Graves second, was forty yards back, and the same distance ahead of Knappe. Loge, one-half lap, could not get his new Indian in working order and was distanced.

RACES SHORTENED.

On account of the accident in the sixth event, there were only two contestants in the amateur twelve-mile open. The race was shortened to six miles, and went to Ward and the Thor in 5m 16s. Balke made the race hot for the first eight laps, when things went wrong with the Merkle, and he dropped steadily back. Ward took the first three laps when he was passed by Balke, after three tied rounds in which neither rider had any advantage. Balke held his lead through the sixth and seventh rounds, when Ward repassed him. After one more close lap the Merkle dropped back, and the race was practically over.

The amateur four-mile for single-cylinder stock machines, was won by Knappe, Neiderhauser taking second, and Schram third. The race was close between the two leaders, with Schram ten yards back. Time 4m 59 1-3s.

Summary:

RANGERS WIN AGAIN.

Defeat Thistles for Third Straight Time in Fast and Exciting Game of Soccer Football.

The Rangers won their third straight game from the Thistles in the Fiesta Park soccer match yesterday afternoon, by 6 goals to 0.

Both clubs put in their strongest available men, as each team was particularly desirous of winning the game. The Thistles wanted to even up for the last two contests, while the Rangers desired to show a clean lead. The game showed the Ranger aggregation to be the stronger.

During the first half neither team was able to score, the ball being in Ranger territory more than on Thistle ground. A. Mitchell, captain of the Rangers, was on the side-lines during the last twenty minutes of play, forcing the remaining ten men of his team to play on the defensive. The Rangers were also troubled by the sun and wind.

In the second period, with the sun and wind at their backs, the Rangers scored regularly. A. Mitchell went back into the game in spite of the bad twist of his ankle, and played brilliantly. Within ten minutes of the opening of the half he had scored three successive goals. Meldrum shot the fourth, after a slightly longer interval, and Smith the fifth and sixth, about five minutes intervening between each of the last three scores.

For the Rangers Archie Mitchell was the star, his work after his return to the game being the best seen this season. J. Mitchell also did noticeably well, while Shepherd put up a strong game, with him at full-back. For the Thistles Shand put up the strongest game among the backs. Jarvis, full-back for the Rangers, did unusually well, while Burden of the Thistles, though putting up a strong defense, did not shine as much as in some of the previous matches.

The line-up:

Rangers.		Thistles.
Jarvis	goal	Burden
J. Mitchell	full-back	Todd
Shepherd	full-back	Kitchen
Meldrum	half-back	Carleton
C. Burleigh		Tom Higgins
E. Barton		Shand
Grover	forward	Welfare
Smith		Gorfunkle
A. Mitchell		Bailey
Lincoln		Watts
Ball		Williamson

Referee, John McComb. Goals, A. Mitchell, 3; Smith, 2; Meldrum.

The qualifying round for the president's cup brought out sixty-eight golfers to the Los Angeles Country Club on Saturday. Frederickcon had the best gross score of 75. The net score of the thirty-second man to qualify for the succeeding match play was 81, while the lowest net score was 71.

NEAR TRAGEDY AT SEA.

EXPLOSION ON FISHING BOAT NEARLY KILLS STEERSMAN.

JESS B. LIVINGSTONE, a clerk in the local office of the Sunset Telephone Company, had his skull fractured by an explosion of the air tank on the fishing launch O. K. yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. With a party of employés of the Sunset company he was fishing in the channel between San Pedro and Catalina Island.

Livingstone was at the wheel when the explosion occurred and was hit by flying débris. He fell and was unconscious for nearly two hours. For half an hour the engine was out of commission, and the disabled boat rolled and tossed in the heavy swell. The toilet-room on the launch was wrecked, but the boat was otherwise uninjured. The tank was thrown overboard before the flames could spread.

The run to port was made in about two hours. Dr. F. W. Reynolds dressed the various wounds on the head and brought Livingstone to the Pacific Hospital, where it was said last night that he would recover.

The companions of Livingstone on the trip were Fred Falkner, Frank Foulker, J. L. Lampkin, John Long, O. K. Goldsmith, B. Eagan, C. A. Farmer and C. F. Fox.

REHEARSALS FOR GREAT PLAY CAUSE CURIOSITY.

Necessary to Place Guard at the Door Where Principals in "Professor Napoleon" Drill—Performers Will Tonight Begin Last Rehearsal at Midnight.

About 100 performers in the "Professor Napoleon" production will begin a midnight rehearsal on the Auditorium stage, after the regular concert tonight, and continue for several hours. These groups are determined to make their parts perfect for the big show and to that end will have this final rehearsal before the initial performance Wednesday night.

Seats and boxes are being rapidly sold and capacity houses will surely witness each of the five performances. An understudy has been coached for every principal character so that no delay or confusion will be experienced if an unforeseen accident happens to any of the principals or choruses.

As there are 720 people in this college opera, the manner in which the rehearsals are conducted and the army of people handled are quite as interesting, to those not accustomed to such things, as the performance itself.

Rehearsals are conducted in the strictest privacy and it was found necessary to secure some one to guard the entrance and keep the room free from intruders. The instructors were too busy to be interrupted every five minutes and the chaperons considered it beneath their dignity to engage in constant heated altercations with onlookers. Julius Hansen, therefore, takes his stand each day about an hour before the rehearsals commence, holding the door against all comers, and quits only when the last tired young maiden weary with the long hours of rehearsing, leaves the hall under the convoy of her escort. The persuasive argument of silver, the power of honeyed words and sweet smiles, and the threat of superior physical strength are like naught to Hansen. None may cross the magic threshold and witness the rehearsals of a chorus that is now trained to the last stage of perfection.

Many ingenious excuses for entering are offered by the throngs which congregate about the entrance. Some wish to speak to a friend, some are waiting for a sister while others "know a feller" in the show. One woman wants to see how nicely Jane or Mary or Harry is doing and becomes quite enraged because she is refused admission.

The young men who accompany the girls who are taking part, prove more tractable than any one else, when told that they must stay outside. They bid their fair ones a fond farewell and wander off in twos and threes. They are always promptly on hand, however, when rehearsal is over to indulge in the dance which the management allows as a reward for virtue and patience.

MUSIC AND STAGE.

of Broadway" cannot help making good.

Oliver Morosco and John Blackwood are in the East—but not together!

Yesterday was the fifth anniversary of the organization of the Burbank stock company, which this morning enters upon the sixth year of its existence. Except for infrequent weeks when the Burbank stage has been given over to traveling stars, as was the case when Mrs. Fiske played "The New York Idea" at the Main-street house, the company has played there continuously during all of this time, making it the senior organization of its kind in America.

The company's first play was Charles Hoyt's "A Temperance Town," presented November 7, 1904. Of that cast four members remain in the present organization and all four have been continuously members of the Burbank company. They are John W. Burton, H. S. Duffield, Henry Stockbridge and Willis Marks.

Rehearsals of Julian Johnson's "Invasion" will begin at the Burbank this morning. Members of the company have had their parts for the past week and are expected to come to the first rehearsal letter perfect. This is an unusual requirement, but was made necessary because of the large number of unusual scenic effects in the play. Director David M. Hartford desiring a full week's time in which to arrange his stage pictures and familiarise the actors with the art of aeroplane operation, as applied to the stage, wireless telegraphy and other unusual mechanisms employed by Mr. Johnson in telling his story of what might happen should a hostile power suddenly descend upon the south coast.

Members of the Theatrical Treasurer's Association are planning to hold an "electrical masquerade ball" in the near future. Not all of them seem to be quite certain just what an "electrical masquerade ball" is, but they are quite sure that's the kind of a ball they want to have.

Lewis S. Stone and the Belasco theater company will open tonight in Channing Pollock's comedy of Washington Departmental "The Little Grey Lady." The play has to do with the workers in the redemption department of the Treasury, and its story is based on a missing one hundred dollar bill that has been sent to the Treasury to be redeemed.

Ellen Beach Yaw will be heard in recital at the Auditorium tonight, assisted by Jay Plowe, flutist, and Mrs. T. Newman, pianist.

Neither the Mason nor Auditorium stages will be occupied this week. Next week "The Man of the Hour" will come to the Mason, while Eddie Foy in "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway" will play at the Auditorium.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The hope of Boston people for a permanent home for grand opera has at last been realized in the completion, at the cost of $1,250,000, of a magnificent operahouse. The operahouse will be formally opened tomorrow night with the presentation of "La Gioconda" in Italian, with Nordica, Constantine, Louise Homer and Pulcini in the principal parts.

ORANGE GROWERS MEET.

Covina Association Elects Officers. New Section Is Added to High School District.

COVINA, Nov. 7.—The Covina Orange Growers' Association held the annual meeting yesterday, reëlecting the old board of directors thus: A. R. Evans, president; L. L. Ratekin, vice-president; C. E. Crawford, secretary; Charles Ross is house manager. He was formerly manager of the West Highlands Citrus Association of Redlands. He assumed his new position in the Covina house on the 1st inst. The association has dispersed to its members during the past year $230,000 for oranges. The Covina National Bank made the association an offer to pay 2 per cent. interest on the daily balances.

Nine hundred acres was added to the city school district yesterday by the action of the County Superintendent of Schools in allowing the petition for annexation of all that territory belonging to the Lower Azusa school district lying south of the Pacific Electric Railway. This district was a part of the Citrus Union High School and the pupils had to travel four miles to the schoolhouse. By the change they have only to go one mile to reach the schoolhouse.

J. L. Matthews, G. D. Jennings and George W. Van Vliet have purchased the Freeman tract. This valuable property, comprising ten acres, now in oranges and lemons, is located one block from the postoffice and is bounded by Second and Puente streets. It has been purchased for a high-grade residence subdivision.

FATAL SHOCK.

LIGHTNING BOLT CARRIES DEATH TO YOUNG OPERATOR.

FATALLY injured by a discharge of electricity from the very device which was installed to prevent such accidents, Lee Beckett, an operator in the employ of the Southern California Edison Company, died at the Castaic sub-station near Saugus yesterday afternoon.

Beckett was standing about three feet from the lightning-arrester, a device intended to prevent injury from the effect of thunder storms. At his feet was a shallow pool of water. Suddenly a bolt from some distant storm in the desert struck the wires and a discharge from the arrester struck Beckett, burning him terribly and hurling him to the floor. He sustained a concussion of the brain from his sudden fall, in addition to the shock and burns. A physician from the aqueduct camp was hurried to the scene, and the Edison company sent another doctor from here.

The two medical men worked over the unconscious patient all the afternoon, but were unable to revive him. Death occurred about 6 o'clock.

The body will be brought to this city this morning, and an inquest will be held at Bresee Brothers' morgue.

Beckett was about 30 years old, and had been in the employ of the company for several years. He worked for the electrical corporation at Pomona, his home, for some time. He has been connected with the National Guards, and was very popular in his home town. Because of ill-health he asked for a position in some station where he could be out of doors more of the day.

He was appointed station operator at the Castaic sub-station, which is on the edge of the desert near Saugus. His health improved there, and for the last two years he has been steadily at work. During that time he never sustained any injury.

On account of frequent electrical storms on the desert, the station is equipped with one of the latest appliances for receiving a heavy discharge of electricity. It is built something on the plan of a lightning rod and works very successfully under normal conditions.

The fact that the operator was standing in a shallow pool of water, which had been spilled on the floor, was in all probability accountable for his death. When a distant bolt struck the high voltage wires it came along the cable into the station with tremendous force. The arrester took up most of the strength of the increased current, but the force was so great that a discharge occurred, despite the safeguard.

An official of the company stated last night that it was one of the unavoidable accidents which sometimes occur in spite of precaution. He said everything possible was done to relieve the injured man, and that the physicians entertained hope of their patient's recovery until the last.

FLUFFY TAIL!

WHO HAS SEEN A TIGER CAT?

MISSING FELINE LEAVES VOID IN FIREMAN'S HOME.

Cops Are Looking Everywhere. Hand Bills Are Scattered Broadcast—Large Reward Is Offered. Half-brother Won't Eat—No Trace Can Be Found of Beloved Pet.

The family of Battlion Chief John G. Todd of the local fire department is mourning the loss of a pet cat, Tom.

Though described as "just an ordinary tiger cat," the big fellow is dearly beloved by the Todds, and both are grieving over his absence. A large reward has been offered for his return to the Todd residence, No. 1823 Arapahoe street, and thousands of hand bills have been circulated throughout the city. While the Todds have had many telephone calls about the cat they have found no trace of the missing pussy.

"The cat just twined himself about my wife and me until we loved him almost like a child," said the fireman, last night. "My wife has cried over our loss and I am not ashamed to say that I have felt the tears trickle down my own face. Unless a person owns an animal to which he is greatly attached, he doesn't know what we have suffered.

"I owned the grandmother and the mother, and Tom has had the best of care. He has shown his affection in many ways. He would always be waiting for me when I came home late at night, and he would answer my whistle like a dog.

"Tom was wild with strangers and did not care to roam about like some cats. His half brother, Bobbie, has grieved since his playmate disappeared and eats hardly anything."

The Todds have lived for three years at their present address, and they are almost certain, if their cat lived and were at liberty, he would come running home. Inasmuch as the cat has no intrinsic value, it has puzzled all who have aided in the search to account for his continued absence.

When Mr. and Mrs. Todd went to San Francisco to witness the Portola celebration, they left their cats with a person on Florida street, who has a hospital and boarding place for animals. Upon their return, the Todds were informed that Tom had disappeared. They searched everywhere and waited day after day to hear of their pet.

Many of the policemen who know Battalion Chief Todd have looked along their beats for the missing cat and all the firemen in the city are on the lookout. Tom weighs about thirteen pounds, is short-haired and light-striped. He has a long, fluffy tail, a white spot under the chin and white between the hind legs.

Probably Todd would pay almost any price in reason for the return of his pet. If the present possessor of the cat realized how much grief Tom's absence is causing the owners and his old playmate, Bobbie, it would seem that no one could be hard-hearted enough to keep the animal.

The Restless-Sunday League.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your paper of the 6th of November, Saturday, there appeared an article under the heading, "Voice From the Tomb Comes to the Council," in which it speaks of City Attorney Hewitt asking Deputy Attorney Willson if he had the ordinance to close the theaters on Sundays for the Council to act upon; then it goes on and states that it will be up for the Council to act upon next Tuesday. It further states that this subject has slept peacefully in the breast of Rev. William Francis Ireland (myself) and that the Sunday Rest League, which I was the State secretary of, has gone out of existence and there naturally followed the elimination of the secretary, and that it has been said that I was a beneficiary of the recall secret service funds, but that I deny this, and that I am the only one that expects an affirmative answer to this ordinance in the coming election and that the injection of the question into the present campaign is not to the liking of the recall politicians. Now I want you to give some place to my answer to this article as it will give the people that know me a wrong opinion of the league and myself and had done that at this time.

(1.) The Sunday Rest-League was temporarily disbanded at my request and can be called to active service at any time that a majority of the Executive Committee may consent, and that in a number of the outside towns our branch committees are at work and never have disbanded.

(2.) That I am not now and never have been a beneficiary of the recall secret service funds, and never have been in the pay of any political organization or political league in this State or city, and that I never have received a dollar of city money, and furthermore, I never have received a dollar from any one representing the city, State, political party, or league or organization.

(3.) That I am not now and never have been paid a cent to aid the city in the enforcement of the license laws or the looking up of the past records of those wishing to get a license from the Police Commission to tell fortunes in this city, and have given what time I have to this line of work at my own expense, only wishing to see this city kept in a good moral condition.

(4.) That the City Council made a promise when we, the Sunday Rest League, bankers and business men, consented to not take out an initiative petition, to place this question before the people for them to vote upon at the next coming election, and we expect to have them keep their word given in faith some time past, that the people shall say if the theaters shall close on Sundays or not, and I know the people will say yes.

(5.) This question has not been lost track of and it has not been sleeping, but has been quietly agitated for the last two years, and there are a good many more friends for it now than ever before, for people have been investigating and know the reasons why such a law should be enacted to protect the young people of our city.

(6.) I do not know anything about the recall politicians, whether they want this question placed upon the ticket or not and I do not care as I never have taken them into my plans, but have gone right ahead and taken care of my own affairs, never mind liked or disliked it. I would not be liable to consult any one at this time, when I have something to finish that was started some two years ago.

Mr. Editor, let me say, that I am not tied up to any one and that I never have been. I am in the habit of doing what I think is right, never mind who liked or disliked it. I would any one else, and as I have had some experience with the open Sunday theater and have investigated this question in Los Angeles for the last four years I know the need of this ordinance here. And now, please do me the favor of placing this in your paper, as I have been placed in a wrong light by your other article and I feel it is no more than right that you should give the facts to the people, and the subject is one that the people will have to settle, if not in this election, then by a special election. It is best that they should know that it is not a dead issue and that I am far from being dead; and let me say that you will hear from me as long as I live in this city, and I have no idea of ever moving away from Los Angeles, and expect to live one hundred years and be very much alive when most of the people here have passed away to the good old hunting-grounds.

Life is a great and a live issue and the force of mind over matter is a fact. If some of you want to be able to win out on this question, get on the band wagon of thought and I will fight this issue out with you. I shall live as long as I want to (bar accident,) as I now am planning one hundred years, so I will be able to carry this question to a successful finish if it takes a good many years to do so.

Thanking you in advance, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,

WM. FRANCIS IRELAND.

EVEN CHANCE FOR LIFE.

Physicians Say Former Sheriff May Not Live Through Tonight from Automobile Injuries.

John Burr, the former Sheriff of Los Angeles county, who was hurt in an automobile accident at the corner of Downey avenue and Eastlake Saturday night, was reported from the California Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning to have just an even chance of surviving. It was stated this morning that he may not live through the night. The attendants seemed to be of the opinion that his injuries must eventually prove fatal.

The patient's rugged constitution is serving him well in his fight for life, and may possibly bring him through, say the physicians.

Burr was seated in the front seat of a Columbia touring car Saturday night, watching the start of the Los Angeles to Phoenix automobile race. Fred L. Boruff, a wealthy rancher of San Fernando, was driving the car, and E. O Henson of Hollywood, and Clifford Judy of San Fernando, were in the rear seat.

They were traveling along the Mission road near the park at a good rate of speed when they were warned by the shoutes of other spectators that No. 3, the Pennsylvania car, was approaching. Boruff prevented a collision with the racer by swinging the wheel of his car and turning it into a fire plub nearby. The shock of the collision threw Mr. Burr to the ground. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and later was removed to the California Hospital.

At the Churches Yesterday.

"Jacob's Dream."

"IT IS said that dreams go by contraries. Who knows?" is the way Rev. F. O. Sheets began his interesting sermon yesterday at Boyle Heights Methodist Church. His subject was "Jacob's Dream." "The dreams recorded in the Old Testament," he said, "were the visions of literal events that were actually to occur or of events the interpretations of which were full of wisdom. It is possible to get some helpful lessons from a study of Jacob's dream, whatever may be the psychology of the dream itself."

Speaking of the ladder that Jacob saw, the minister said: "It was set up on the earth. Of course there is no reference to a literal ladder of wood or iron. Christianity is a ladder. Religion is a ladder—and one end must rest on earth. Religion has to do with the affairs of life. Riches and poverty, sickness and health, are all matters with which religion is concerned. It isn't too much to affirm that the coming election ought to be determined by the application of the ethics of religion to the privilege of suffrage.

"Jacob's ladder reached to heaven. It found height and stability. Rest the ladder of religious faith against an unworthy ambition for things or place, for mere worldly success, and high ascent thereby becomes impossible.

"To live for heaven only is grossly impracticable and selfish.

"To live for earth only is crudely material and crass.

"The angels whom Jacob saw ascending and descending the ladder of his dream are the ministers (not teachers) to humanity. In Old Testament days they were the divine servants who carried hope and life to Elijah and Hagar, courage and protection to Gideon and Joshua. In modern days they are the honest men, the devoted women and the faithful parents by whom the same end speaks to and serves humanity.

"We are too literal today. We speculate and interrogate needlessly. We become practically atheists. We admit the force of the inhibitions as to profanity. But, we rather doubt, or are a trifle skeptical, when the command is not to worry, but to trust and believe."

"Choked Wells."

Yesterday morning, Rev. P. S. Henson, D.D., acting as regular supply for the Temple Baptist Church, spoke on "Choked Wells," using as a text: "And Isaacs digged again the wells of water, that they had digged in the days of David his father." He said, in part:

"The patriarchs were great well diggers. Abraham set the pace. After his death, the Philistines took infernal satisfaction in stopping the wells which he left as his memorials. The Philistines are not all dead, and there are still wells which we need to dig again. I shall speak of three: The well of scripture, the well of prayer, and the well of Christian experience.

"What depths there are in the well of scripture. There was a river in Eden; there is a river in heaven, but we poor mortals need a well. A very old well it is and inexhaustible. The destructive critics are digging the dirt that lines the sides. We are digging to reach the treasures of living water below.

"The well of prayer reverses the process. Now we draw from the upper deep. The church's real power is that which comes from on high. The whole effort of infidelity is to discredit the efficacy of prayer. Beware that the well is not clogged by unbelief.

"The well of Christian experience is flooded with blessing. The religion of Christ is not a code or a creed, but an experience. The Christian has a well of water within himself. The source is from beneath the throne of God. If your Christian wells are choked by sin, by worldliness or by disuse, dig them again."

—o—

Sunday Desecration.

Rev. Arthur S. Phelps, D.D., pastor of Central Baptist Church, preached last night on "Going to the Beach on Sunday." He said in part:

"Going to the beach on Sunday is not restful; it is a strain. Being continually 'on the go' wears the nerves instead of resting them. It is destructive to home life. A man who sees his home only at night cannot appreciate his wife's needs, nor those little necessities to the household happiness. He trades cheap, gaudy excitement for the natural and simple enjoyments of the home. The gay flirt at the beach who has shirked her own household work, makes the plain and tired wife at his table look stupid.

"He is selfish in forgetting that to give him a day off he makes other toilers work overtime.

"Going to the beaches robs you of soul growth, and the character which is dependent on self-sacrifice. When the millionaire atheist Girard turned a young man out of his employ because he refused to work on Sunday, he afterward recommended him to a banker, saying, in answer to the latter's objection that he had turned him off, 'The young man who has conscience enough to refuse to work, at a sacrifice of position, will make an honest cashier.'

"Thousands in Southern California have proved in their individual experience that neglect of God's day of rest and worship has permitted Christianity to perish from their hearts. I have a list of about one hundred such in Los Angeles."

—o—

"The Old-Fashioned Woman."

Dr. Charles Edward Locke preached at the First Methodist Church last evening on the subject "Back to the Home; or the Old-Fashioned Woman and the Twentieth Century's Call to Women." He said in part:

"The greatest earthly institution is the home. Woman by nature and by divine appointment is the center of the home and the supreme custodian of the rich treasures of the domestic circle. In the phenomenal activity of the nineteenth century there were some things which were abnormally developed and which are destined to seek ere long, their proper place and boundaries. Among these is woman's position and factorship in the world.

"The working of father, mother and children is a pagan and not an American condition. In the long run women will do women's work and men will do men's work.

"Tastes are inborn. A little girl wants a doll baby and thimble and plays house. A little boy wants a tool, or gun and plays carpenter or soldier.

"My contention is that woman's sphere should be as wide as her tastes, her abilities and her necessities, and that as the custodian of the home, she has a sphere which far surpasses in extent and importance any work possible to men. As the home-keeper and character builder, she is engaged in a sublime employment beside which, profession, commerce and merchandising are but irksome and slavish toil.

"Women must become an organized force against the enemies of the home. Whatever hurts the morals of a people, injures the home. I have argued in favor of the suffrage for women because I believe it will help her to defend her home.

"Women should vehemently demand and stand for a rest, home and worship day. It is impossible to have a home without religion. The home is women's realm. It is for the women of America to say whether the Sabbath shall go or stay. If the republic is wrecked on the rocks of secularism, it will be because the women have forsaken their thrones.

"Because all forms of vice prosper at the expense of the home, women should concentrate their attention upon the great reforms of temperance and social purity. These things are now so entangled with politics that there is very little honest, permanent effort made to reduce or suppress or control these public evils. The Christian home is worth saving. When the home goes, woman as a power in civilization disappears. While the woman is the home maker the home also makes the woman. When she forsakes Christ, she goes back to the paganism and slavery and debasement of the Orient.

"If the women will honor their home privileges, they will be most gallantly protected by men. No women are so admired by a nation's manhood as the wives and mothers who are caring for the nation's hearthstones."

"Forgiveness of Sins."

The Very Rev. William MacCormack, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, preached before a large congregation yesterday morning, on the subject of "Forgiveness of Sins." He took his text from St. Matthew: "Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him?" The dean said, in part:

"No man can be forgiven for any sin, unless he, from his heart, hath forgiven his brother. We pray God to forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us," but do we all forgive those who trespass against us?

"You cannot come to church, my beloved, and pray that your sins be forgiven and yet hold malice and hatred in your heart against a brother sinner.

"God will forgive, if only forgiveness is prayed for with faith in Christ Jesus; therefore, forgive your brother for any offense and follow our Lord's advice to St. Peter, that they should forgive until reventy times seven. There is no limit to God's forgiveness."

The speaker dwelt upon the beautiful love of forgiveness. The very act of forgiving, he said, tended to make that love deeper and purer and brighter. He spoke of Holy Communion and said: "Not one of us, my friends, should partake of that blessed sacrament without having confessed his sin to Almighty God, whose redemption only can forgive through His Son, our Lord, who suffered that we should be saved."

The dean closed his sermon as follows: "Lastly, let me caution you against the bitter hatred of jealousy, which viper is a burden to the soul. Get rid of these awful obstacles that oppose the pleasant part of life; try to think kindly of your fellow-being; bear no false witness against your neighbor."

NERVES ARE SHATTERED.

Assault by Two Men Places Schoolteacher in Delicate Condition. Search for Thugs.

Bordering on nervous collapse as a result of an attack by thugs, who first robbed and then assaulted her, Mrs. Jeanette E. Baldwin, a teacher in the Polytechnic High School, is being detained at the house of Dr Edwin T. Manning, where she can be carefully watched.

Mrs. Baldwin went from her home on Elden street, Saturday night, to the corner of Pico and Hope streets. She intended visiting the home of Dr. Manning nearby, to attend a party.

Two men attacked and gagged her and then dragged her to a vacant house at No. 1323 South Hope street. There they robbed her of 30 cents and the alleged assault is said to have followed.

When the case was reported to the police Saturday night, it was stated that the woman had been outraged. Yesterday this report was denied at the home of Dr. Manning.

Mrs. Baldwin was taken to her home yesterday morning, but the details of the horrible affair soon recurred to her and she suffered a nervous breakdown and was removed to Dr. Manning's home.

She has been unable to give any description to the police of the thugs who committed the assault and officers are compelled to work with meager details in trying to capture the men.

TRAIN WRECK KILLS TWO.

CORNELL (N. Y.) Nov. 7.—Engineer Chauncey Green and Fireman Christopher Ryder were killed; F. O. Brady, a brakeman, probably fatally hurt and two other employés were slightly injured in a freight wreck on the Erie Railroad near Belmont today.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition.—[Adv.

Milk-white floors—spotless and wholesome enough to "eat off"—is the quick result when GOLD DUST is added to your scrubbing water

Floors and doors and woodwork are hard to clean thoroughly because the dirt gets ground into every crack and crevice.

Soap and mop all you will, the job at best will be only partly done.

A heaping tablespoonful of GOLD DUST added to your scrubbing water will make it search out dirt, grease, germs and impurities from every cranny, and cleanse and purify wherever it touches.

GOLD DUST also relieves you of that weary, torturing grind of bending and scrubbing, because it does all the hard part of the work without your help. Soap makes housework hard work. Let GOLD DUST ease the burden.

REPUBLICANS WANT AUTOS.

Many Machines Required to Aid in Getting Out the Vote on Wednesday.

Chairman Casselman, of the Republican City Central Committee, issues an appeal to all party members possessing automobiles to give the use of the machines at the primary election of Wednesday. It is hoped to have several autos in each precinct, to aid in getting out the vote. While a number have been promised, more are wanted. Chairman Casselman or Secretary Robinson may be reached at Republican headquarters, No. 122½ South Spring street, telephones Main 1577 and F3293.

The Good Government Organization is obtaining the use of every available machine, which, with the Republican, Mushet and Farish cars, not to mention those of various other candidates, should give the semblance of a garage to every polling place.

GRATEFUL.

"THANKS," SAYS HUNGRY THIEF.

Toy Bank All That Was Missed of Value—Box Car Broken Into and Several Persons Report Petty Robberies to the Police—Pass Keys to Rooms Used.

"Thanks for the lunch." (Signed) "M. M."

This note, a broken window, a partly devoured lunch and a missing savings bank, explained the visit of an intruder to the home of T. J. Gray, No. 232 South Gates street, yesterday afternoon.

The police have the note, which was written in a bold hand. The note had been scribbled on the back of a Mushet campaign card and was placed on the table amid the debris of victuals.

The members of the Gates family left home during the afternoon. They were gone about two hours. They believe that the thief entered between the hours of 1 and 2 p.m. Entry was gained by forcing the window in the dining-room. The house was ransacked but nothing taken except a small savings bank containing about $3.

The intruder had taken his time at the work. After finishing he opened a cupboard and took out a loaf of bread, some butter and a jar of preserved pears. He fixed a place for himself at the table and proceeded to eat half the loaf and about half the preserves. He then left his note of thanks and departed by way of the front door.

This was only one of several small robberies which mark the opening of the yearly season of petty crimes in Southern California. The other jobs were all committed by sneak thieves and in no place was anything of great value secured.

F. L. Felix of the roadmaster's office of the Santa Fé Railroad, yesterday reported the theft of two watches, a suit of clothes and $7 from a box car. The car was in the yards when broken into. There is no clew to the identity of the thief.

The room of Charles Matock was entered yesterday and a suit of clothes taken. Matock lives at No. 245½ South Figueroa street. Entrance was by means of a pass key.

W. C. Cook also reported the loss of a suit of clothes and a suit case from his rooms, No. 427 East Fifth street. A pass key was also used here.

James Riley, No. 451½ East Third street, C. J. Borman, No. 852 South Hill and Mrs. A. M. Butcher No. 1031 West Twentieth street, each reported small losses. Mrs. Butcher's home was entered through the dining-room window and a watch, two pearl stick pins and $10 were taken.

BLOWS OUT HIS BRAINS.

Despondent because of ill health and lack of work, William Miller, a laborer, living at No. 526 Maple avenue, committed suicide, Saturday afternoon, in Elysian Park, by shooting himself in the head. The body was found yesterday afternoon by H. Rife, who reported the affair to the park officer. Miller was 30 years of age, and had been living at the Maple avenue address since last August. Nothing is known there of his home or relations. The body was removed to the Bresee morgue.

Charles H. Hesten of Chicago, connected with large grain interests in that city, is at the Lankershim for a visit of several days. He is seeing the sights of Southern California. From Los Angeles he will travel north making many stop overs in California and spending several days in the Yosemite.

INDESCRIBABLE SUFFERINGS

Dumb Chills, and Other Serious Symptoms, Complicated the Illness of Miss Rutherford, Formerly of Atlanta.

Douglassville, Tex.—"Five years ago, I was caught in a rain at the wrong time," writes Edna Rutherford of Douglassville, Tex., "and from that time was taken with dumb chills and fevers and suffered more than I can tell.

"I tried all the medicines that I thought would do me any good, and four different doctors, but got no relief, so I began to take Cardui.

"I have now taken six bottles of Cardui and am wonderfully improved. I feel better than I have in many months and am thankful to your wonderful medicine."

There is a reason why Cardui is so exceptionally successful in relieving women's troubles, after other medicines fail, and that is, that it contains rare herbal ingredients, which have to be imported especially from Europe and which by their specific action on the womanly organs, help to strengthen and restore them to health.

Cardui is more successful than other medicines because it is "different." It is in a class by itself. It is not a cure all, but a woman's medicine, a tonic for weak women.

It does one thing, and does it well.

That's the secret of its fifty years of success.

PARTY FAMILY DINES TONIGHT.

REPUBLICANS TO GATHER FOR FINAL CONFERENCE.

Executive and Precinct Committeemen Will Meet With Candidates and Sum Up Situation, Outlining Plans and Giving Instructions for Work at Wednesday's Primaries.

An "official family" dinner will be enjoyed at Levy's at 7 o'clock this evening by the Republican City Executive Committee, the precinct committeemen and the party candidates who will gather, as they did about two weeks ago, for counsel. On this occasion the entire situation will be summed up, final instructions will be given to the precinct committeemen, and there will be a general jollification over the glowing outlook for success at Wednesday's primaries.

Chairman Casselman will preside and there will be brief talks by various other officials. In cases where the precinct committeemen cannot attend, the next in command will represent the precinct.

Reports made yesterday from all over the city indicate that the sentiment for Smith and the entire Republican ticket continues to spread and that Alexander will be his chief opponent at the polls.

The disruption of the Liberal Alliance, through the resignations of Fernand Parmentier, treasurer, and H. H. Keck of the Executive Committee, has made a big gap in the Mushet ranks; most of the gas seems to have gone from this candidate's balloon. Parmentier and Keck could not stand for the "liberal" orgy at Turner Hall Friday night, conducted by the Liberal Alliance in support of Mushet's candidacy. The result has not only been to knock many of the Alliance props from under Mushet, but also to alienate the support of hundreds of voters who are not allied with that "wide open" organization.

The Good Government Organization, which at first thought it would, then thought it wouldn't indorse candidates for the Council has at last come out into the open and picked its slate, just as many persons have held all along that it would do. The morning recall organ gave the list yesterday, which is as follows: W. J. Washburn, First Ward; Miles S. Gregory, Second Ward; Benjamin C. Robinson and J. J. Andrews, Fourth Ward; George Williams, Richmond Plant and John D. Works, Fifth Ward; T. L. O'Brien, Sixth Ward; Martin F. Betkouski, Seventh Ward.

Frederick Freeman Wheeler, the well-known Prohibitionist, who was told that he is "too good" for the G. G. O. ticket is not among the number, and nearly twenty other Council candidates who had been led to believe that they would be indorsed are missing from the select list.

However all these candidates are expected by Boss Lissner to get out and work for the success of the rest of the ticket, though given to understand that their own cases are hopeless.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation.—[Adv.

A New "Breakfast Food" Is Born Every Day

Imitation is the most sincere flattery.

H-O oatmeal has been imitated but never equaled. If you are a user of H-O oatmeal, just try the other "Rolled Oats" and see how quickly you will miss the delicate flavor, the tender kernels, the satisfying result of a dish of H-O oatmeal. If you are not a user of H-O oatmeal, better try it at once, and after convincing yourself of its superior quality, you will wonder how you ever used any other.

It is dangerous to experiment; stick to the tried and true H-O oatmeal—that is steam-cooked, easily digested and nourishing. Contains more real nutriment than meat or eggs, and more muscle-building material than Corn Meal, Rice, Wheat Flour Bread or Soda Crackers.

Do not confuse H-O oatmeal with the ordinary raw oats sold under the name of "Rolled Oats" or "Crushed Oats." H-O oatmeal is never sold in bulk; it is free from dirt, germs and all impurities.
H-O oatmeal is manufactured from the highest grade of selected stock. After removing all foreign matter, the meat of the oat is subjected to a very high temperature, and by our own patented process is cooked for several hours under heavy steam pressure. This steam cooking dextrinizes the starch and renders the oats easily digestible.
H-O oatmeal is ready for the breakfast table after from ten to fifteen minutes boiling and provides an inviting dish of sweet, clean, separate, tender kernels in place of the sticky, soggy, indigestible mass obtained in cooking the usually "Rolled Oats."

Possibly the "other" kind may be cheaper; but as soon as you have tested and appreciated the quality of H-O oatmeal, you will gladly pay the few cents difference.

SLICK SCHEME, BUT IT FAILS.

Water Company Tries Steal March on City.

Foreman Arrested; Exciting Time With Police.

Doctor Accused of Starting a Forest Fire.

Office of The Times, No. 39 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Nov. 8.—William Pollard, foreman of a construction gang employed by the Euclid Water Company, was arrested yesterday for violating an order from the City Council to discontinue work laying pipe to the proposed new well of the company.

The water company only had a small amount of pipe to lay, and regardless of the order rescinding the permit, tried to put down the balance yesterday, thinking no one would take notice, and when once the pipe was laid it would not be compelled to take it up. Pollard had a full gang of men at work when discovered. The police were notified, arrested him and stopped further work.

The Euclid Water Company was organized for the purpose of irrigating the Stoneman tract situated just routh of the city limits. The company has been getting water from a well south of the Pasadena Land and Water Company's plant on Ohio street. It found its supply getting short, and proposed to sink a new well 700 feet deep. A permit was secured to lay pipe. The Pasadena Land and Water Company appeared before the City Council, at its last meeting, and asked to have the permit revoked, stating that the deep well would drain its supply. Inasmuch as the city expects to buy the plant of the Pasadena Land and Water Company, the permit was revoked.

When ordered to stop work yesterday Pollard and his men refused and it looked for a while as if a small riot would ensue. All the men on duty at the police department were called out. Pollard was arrested and his men sent home.

DOCTOR ARRESTED.

Constable Austin arrested Dr. Geyerman yesterday on a warrant sworn out by the forest rangers, charging the physician, who runs a small sanatorium in Rubio Cañon, with having caused one of the recent forest fires there. It is alleged that Geyerman started a fire to burn some brush about his tents, and allowed it to spread, with the result that a large amount of ground was burnt over, and many acres of poppy fields destroyed. The forest rangers experienced much difficulty in putting the fire out. Geyerman states that he did not start any blaze, and was not responsible for the forest fire.

ANNANDALE CLUB AFFAIRS.

Saturday and Sunday were two big days for the Annandale Country Club. On Saturday the first concert of the season was given at the clubhouse by Kammeyer's Orchestra of Los Angeles, which has been engaged to play every Saturday during the season. There were over 300 members and their friends out to hear the music and attend the large number of dinner parties and teas given by different members.

The golf course was crowded all day. For the regular club cup tournament there were fifty-three entries, and some excellent playing. Dr. T. B. Wright and A. S. Halstead tied for the cup with a score of 72. Dr. Wright made a gross score of 98, with a handicap of 26, while Halstead made a gross of 96, with 24 handicap. The next highest score was made by Guy R. Crump, gross 86, handicap 13, net 73.

C. K. Alley won first prize in the sweepstakes and H. B. Lamb made the best gross of 83, which was one out of the bogey.

H. A. FitzGerald entertained a party of eight yesterday to a full course dinner. Mrs. F. D. Compton of Los Angeles entertained a party of eight for tea.

JAPANESE ATTACKED.

William H. Barley and Paul Thompson declared war on Japan yesterday. The first son of that country they encountered was Toshio Fujina, who was riding a bicycle along Colorado street. Fujina states that the men knocked him off and commenced to beat him without cause. He swore out a warrant for their arrest. Barley and Thompson, who were under the influence of liquor, say Fujina fell off his wheel and they tried to help him back on and make a good rider of him. They state the Japanese showed fight at once, whereupon they retaliated.

Prof. and Mrs. George Hale of the solar observatory, entertained the members of the staff at their home on Rose street Saturday evening. Prof. Hale recited many incidents of his recent trip to Europe, particularly regarding various observatories and societies he visited. Prof. Abbott of the staff also made a short address. Prof. and Mrs. Abbott will leave for the east today.

LAND OF WONDER.

BIG AUDIENCE IS DELIGHTED.

Story of an Empire Interests Long Beach.

Graphic Description of San Joaquin Valley.

Three Annexation Elections Are to Be Held.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 7.—A big audience listened tonight to an attractive narrative on the wonderful San Joaquin Valley, and heartily enjoyed the accompanying pictures. Through the courtesy of Manager Stanley of Hotel Virginia, Messrs. Platt and Bledsoe, representing the San Joaquin Valley Promotion Bureau, for an hour tonight told in picture and story of this great country to a delighted audience gathered in the salon of the hotel.

A powerful lantern and beautifully developed and picturesque slides added much to the interest of the lecture by F. L. Platt. After an introductory word of thanks to the hotel management for the courtesy extended to the promotion bureau, Mr. Platt said there are several things to be considered in selecting an abiding place in glorious California. These include the quality of land, the amount of water available, products of the land, markets, railroad facilities and social conditions of home and church. These are all to be found in the San Joaquin Valley.

The first view shown was the great watershed of the valley, 200 miles of the Sierra Nevadas, taken in July of this year. This was given as a moving panorama, comprising 250 feet of film, and showing the snow-clad mountains from Lyle in Mariposa county to Green Horn in Kern county. These snows gradually melting are the source of the natural water supply, forming the great rivers of the valley, the San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Fresno, Kings, Keewaah and Kern. In addition there are 800 artesian wells, and 2000 pumping plants.

Coming down from the rivers, Mr. Platt showed the system of irrigating canals. There are 25,000 miles in the valley. As a result of this vast supply of irrigating water there were shown upon the screen pictures of orchards, vineyards, orange groves, alfalfa fields, dairy farms and country residences. These brought the lecturer to his subject, "The Evolution of an Empire." He observed that where homes, vineyards and orchards are today but yesterday there was naught but poppies blooming, sheep and cattle grazing on the natural grasses, or wheat fields waving. A wheat field of 30,000 acres, is now divided and subdivided, and by reason of this homeseekers are enabled to purchase small farms of ten acres or more at prices to suit, ranging from $30 an acre upward. Splendid farms in orchard or alfalfa, with water rights can be bought from $40 to $80 and upward, according to location.

Next on the screen were shown two mammoth beet sugar factories in the valley, the last one only recently erected by $1,000,000 of Los Angeles capital. Six years ago, said Mr. Platt, a scientist came into the valley and analyzing the soil found it adapted to raising sugar beets, which now supply the two factories.

The berry industry, which is most profitable to small farmers, was handled briefly, and some pretty views of vast fields of bushes shown. Starting on the subject of the citrus industry Mr. Platt said that a few years ago Southern California audiences would have smiled at the temerity of any one speaking on this subject, yet today the San Joaquin Valley has thousands of acres of the finest oranges on the Pacific Coast, which are marketed from four to six weeks earlier than any south of the Tehachepi.

Southern California boasts of her mountain resorts, and much has been said of the warmth of the San Joaquin, yet views were shown of places only a day's drive with the farm team from ranches, where are to be found camping places whose scenery and surroundings are superb. The scenery, said the lecturer, would compare favorably with the glories of ancient Greece or sunny Italy.

Mr. Platt closed with a sketch of the great lumber industries of the valley. On the screen were shown giant forests, big trees and the large flumes, sixty-five miles in length, down which the huge logs cut in the forests on the mountains are landed in the valley below. One of the views showed the famous tree, Gen. Grant, 320 feet high. Its beauty and grandeur were graphically described by the lecturer.

At the conclusion of the lecture Mr. Platt was asked a number of questions, which were answered in a way that brought out even more in detail the wonders of this new country.

Previous to the lecture and following it the new Virginia orchestra gave a delightful concert.

The lecture was interesting from start to finish, and even without the views, which were splendid, was instructive and entertaining.

TWO ELECTIONS.

Long Beach will hold two elections this week which, if favorable, will add considerable territory to the corporate limits. On Tuesday the vote will be on the question of consolidating with the little city of Belmont Heights, organized a year ago out of the territory lying between the eastern limits of the city and Naples. The indications are that the vote in Belmont will be two to one for consolidation. In Long Beach it will be practically unanimous.

On Wednesday an election will be held to annex about four miles of territory on the west side of San Gabriel River, which is uninhabited and will of course be absorbed, giving the city full control of both sides of the inner harbor and the San Gabriel jetties.

On the 22nd inst. another election will be held to annex a big section of country lying between the eastern city limits and the west limits of Belmont. The sentiment in the territory is said to be overwhelming in favor of coming into the city.

LIFE-SAVING.

Plans for the proposed life-saving stations on the beach to be maintained by the city have been prepared by Engineer Dewey and will be submitted to the Council tomorrow morning. The cost will be about $3000. Two stations are proposed, one on the beach and the other in the water beyond the breakers. Between the two will run a cable, on which a lifeboat could be swung at a moment's notice to any point in the surf where bathers were in danger.

RELIGIOUS FANATIC.

Ben Mount, a religious fanatic, arrested some months ago, and given a jail sentence for circulating obscene literature, has sent a warning to Chief Williams from Santa Cruz that he will return and "pour out the vengeance of God upon his persecuters."

The Order of the Eastern Star has elected as officers Mrs. Gertrude Snyder, Worthy Matron; Mrs. Margaret Gutzler, Associate Matron; Mrs. Esther Hoover, Secretary; Mrs. Jessie Austin, Treasurer; Mrs. Gertrude Howe, Conductress, and Mrs. Grace Tucker, Associate Conductress. The installation will occur December 6.

Rev. Grant K. Lewis of this city was elected one of the national secretaries of the American Christian Missionary Society at the recent convention in Pittsburgh. For five years Mr. Lewis has been secretary of the Southern California and Arizona Missionary Society.

Recent inventions by Long Beach men on which patents have been secured are a tubular rail for railway tracks by P. P. Cookingham, and a shoe-brushing machine by G. E. Russell.

The El Rodeo Club, comprising half a hundred young men nearing their majority, has elected as officers Oliver Sweningsen, president; Frank Vail, vice-president; Bert Waup, treasurer; Leo Cronk, secretary; J. W. Stone, sergeant-at-arms.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Union services of all the Protestant churches will be held Thanksgiving morning at the First Methodist Church. The programme: Rev. F. M. Rogers presiding officer; invocation, Rev. Shelton Bissell; scripture reading, Rev. H. K. Booth; prayer, Rev. A. F. Mitchell; reading of proclamation, Rev. Dell Johnston; offering, introduced by Rev. Lewis Smith; sermon, Rev. Will A. Betts; benediction, Rev. Mr. Snyder.

The residents of the reclamation district northwest of here, will vote on Tuesday, the 23d inst., for three trustees who will, with the engineers they appoint, take care of the storm water of the district. The polls will be at Erwin Stuart's residence on the Perris road between Willows and Palm.

A civil service examination to fill vacancies in the police and fire departments will be held at the High School on the 20th inst.

Wilma Counts, the Fullerton girl who caused a sensation in the lobby of the Del Mar Hotel last week by removing her shoes and stockings, was taken by an officer from a dry goods store yesterday after she had spent the morning trying on shoes. She is harmless and has plenty of money, but seems to need to be taken care of by her friends.

W. Scott Cummings, who disappeared several weeks ago, and afterward turned up in San Francisco, has moved with his family to San Bernardino, where he has a position. He has almost fully recovered his health, but his reasons for leaving are still a mystery, Cummings professing to have no knowledge of his acts.

MASONS WILL HOLD JINKS.

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 7.—The annual high jinks of the Masonic Lodge, No. 322, will be held tomorrow night. Dinner will be served at 6:30, or before the stated meeting, which will be followed by the conferring of the third degree on a candidate, and a social time.

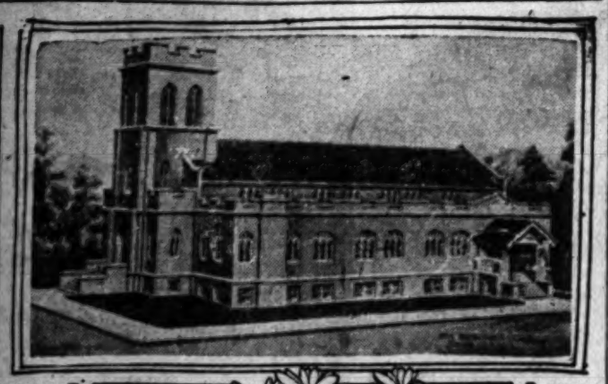
NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.



New Church at Upland.

First Presbyterian edifice now being erected at a cost of about $20,000.

SOLID

STUCCO BUILDING UPON CONCRETE FOUNDATIONS.

UPLAND, Nov. 7.—The new Presbyterian Church, now building, is to be of stucco, with foundations of concrete, and the dimensions are 70 x102 feet. The building is being erected by Contractor F. S. Wills of Ontario, on the site of the former church, at the northeast corner of Ninth street and Euclid avenue. The cost will be about $20,000. Of this amount $13,500 is now practically raised.

This church body was organized in 1887, with an initial membership of less than twenty. For the past two years it has been inevitable that a larger house of worship be provided, and the present pastor, Rev. H. P. Lane, who has been with the church for seven years, has labored hard to obtain it. Officers of the church are: Trustees, Dr. W. H. Craig, Henry Klindt, John Rarick, N. G. Pehl, Chas. Ruedy, Thomas Nesbit, John Cumming; treasurer, A. O. Hadden.

WOULDN'T BE SHOOED.

COW ATTACKS NERVY WOMAN.

LATTER SAVED FROM DEATH BY PRESENCE OF MIND.

Manages to Place Herself in Such a Position That the Horns of Maddened Animal Drive Harmlessly Into the Ground on Each Side of Her Body.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 7.—Mrs. J. W. Phelps of No. 749 Fifth street had a close call yesterday from being gored to death by an angry cow. The bovine strayed into her flower garden, and Mrs. Phelps started to drive it out, when the animal rushed at her. As she fell the angry creature attacked her. Only her presence of mind in managing to secure a position so that the cow's horns drove into the ground on either side of her, prevented terrible injury and possibly death.

As the woman struggled with the animal, she cried for help. Neighbors responded, and drove it off. The police were notified, and have ordered the animal removed from the city limits. It belongs to a Mexican family, and has been somewhat noted for its viciousness.

ELKS' EXTRAVAGANZA.

The Elks are making elaborate preparations to give an operatic extravaganza, entitled "1492," on the nights of November 15 and 16. For several weeks the cast, numbering nearly three score of the most talented men and women of this city, has been quietly rehearsing. Among the actors are Mayor McNabb, who will take the role of Ferdinand Aragon, King of Spain. The role of Isabella of Castile, Queen of Spain, will be assumed by E. B. Wilkerson, and Christopher Columbus by Dr. G. R. Owen. The rendition promises to prove one of the most brilliant society functions this city has yet witnessed.

INSPECT LAND.

Dr. L. M. Parcells and Assistant City Engineer Shirley Bright have gone to the desert with a number of promoters from Los Angeles to look over some twenty sections of government land desired for agricultural purposes. The land lies some thirty-five miles east of Victorville. If water can be obtained by drilling the men propose to make filings and open up the section to homestead.

RAILROAD TRACK FOR COUCH.

H. Baumgartner, a vagrant, rounded out a week's spree today by seeking a railroad track for a couch. He was found by the police barely in time to prevent his being ground to atoms beneath a train. When he sobered up and was fined $10 he came near causing a rough house, vowing it robbery, as he had a sick wife, dependant upon him for support.

BEAUMONT THRIFTY TOWN.

BEAUMONT, Nov. 7.—State Bank Inspector Henry Sherer was in Beaumont last week and inspected the local institution and found it in thrifty, first-class condition. He says his only criticism would be that the bank is carrying too much money.

The following new homes and other buildings are reported as under construction: Mrs. Rhodes of Riverside, a new home on Palm avenue; A. G. Williamson, home on Chestnut street; Will White, home in La Mesa Miravilla, completed; Mrs. Otto Hummel, new home on Pennsylvania avenue.

The new Cherry Valley school building is progressing rapidly, and will soon be ready for occupancy. J. H. Myers is building a warehouse; F. A. Juhlin, a new barn, and J. P. Anderson is preparing to build a new home on the lot recently purchased on Maple avenue. B. F. Young of Huntington Beach was in Beaumont Tuesday arranging for the erection of a new home.

In consequence of the increased building in Beaumont, the Beaumont Lumber Company's yards are being enlarged and larger stocks carried. Every contractor in the valley is busy and the whole community is on the move. Beaumont is showing the most substantial growth in its history at the present time.

The new gas company is completing many of its buildings. Mains will soon be laid and Beaumont will have another important modern improvement.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 7.—The Board of Trade at its last meeting elected A. W. Griffith, president, C. B. Johnson and E. A. Chaffee, vice-presidents, Ralph E. Graves, treasurer, and E. R. Bradbury, A. W. Everett, W. H. Hoge, H. T. Sundbye, J. A. Lake and Dr. George A. Shank directors; Louis Paul Hart is secretary.

The Japanese residents of Wintersburg, three miles from this city, intend to begin at once the erection of a mission to cost $2700. It will be under the direction of Rev. Mr. Terasawa.

Celery is averaging 200 crates to the acre and is of excellent quality. It is closely estimated that this year's output of the peatlands will be 2400 carloads. Worms are busy in some portions of the fields and growers are anxiously awaiting early rains.

C. C. Lewis has sold his ranch of twenty acres at Wintersburg for $5000 and C. I. Taylor has deeded his ranch to W. W. Blaylock for $3000.

FEAR TONGS WILL CLASH.

Santa Barbara Chinatown Excited Over What May Follow Abduction of Pretty Bo Gue.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 7.—Chinatown here is in suppressed excitement over the tong war which is raging in the North, because of the abduction of pretty Bo Gue. Yee Hong, who eloped to this city with the little slave girl, is still here but has not been seen in the open for a week. His abduction of the girl from her rich master caused the death this week of two members of the Yee family at the hands of the On Yick Tong in San Francisco. The On Yicks are not represented here, but the advent of hatchetmen is feared as was shown yesterday by the excitement exhibited in the Chinese quarter when it was rumored two strange Celestials had arrived from the North. This proved to be a jest. A cousin of Yee Hong is also lying low for it was in his laundry that Bo Gue was found in hiding. It is said the On Yick Tong, of which Bo Gue's former master is a member, will not rest until Yee Hong has been killed. Bo Gue is expected here shortly to wed her dashing lover.

The time limit for filing nomination papers expired at noon yesterday. There are three candidates for Mayor in the field and nineteen for the Council with seven to be chosen.

In the first real game of polo this season the White team beat the Reds on the new polo field, at the Hope ranch, yesterday by a score of 4 to 2 in four ten-minute periods. The White quartette was: Edgar Park, No. 1; E. J. Boeseke, Jr., No. 2; B. C. Boeseke, No. 3; E. J. Boeseke, back. The Reds were James Warren, No. 1; Earl Graham, No. 2; John Cross, No. 3; R. C. Rogers, back. Games will be played regularly Tuesdays and Saturdays.

As a result of the recent tour of the county by the Supervisors, a new steel bridge will be built over the Santa Ynez River at the San Lucas crossing, four miles from the town of Santa Ynez.

SNOW MAY HINDER IT.

Likely to Cause Delay on Water Conduit to Reach Neighborhood of Banning.

BANNING, Nov. 6.—Surveying has been completed by the Consolidated Reservoir and Power Company for the conduit which is to bring water from the Whitewater River to a point near Banning. If the snow in the San Bernardino Mountains is not too deep some construction work will be done this coming winter. The intake, at an elevation of 7000 feet, will draw water from three streams which make up the south fork of the Whitewater. Beginning at the intake five miles of cement pipe line will be laid, then a mile and a half of pressure pipe to a point where the first power-house will be located for generating electricity.

Continuing from this point two miles of pipe will be laid, then three-fourths of a mile of pressure pipe to the location of the second power-house, which will be about ten miles northeast of Banning. Prominent among the promoters are H. Edward Moore, Los Angeles; George I. Lamy, Los Angeles; R. B. Sheldon, Riverside; W. B. Scarborough, Monrovia.

PROPOSE TO ENLARGE.

Finding the present quarters inadequate, the First National Bank has called for bids for an addition to the banking house.

The various items of expense incurred in the chase after Willie Boy have been checked over, and it is found that Riverside county's share will amount to $2000.

STOCK THIEVES BEWARE.

Farmers Meet at Ventura and Perfect Protective Association—Rewards for Captures.

VENTURA, Nov. 7.—The stockmen of this county have organized for the capture of horse thieves. At a meeting in this city yesterday, at which every section of the county was represented, an organization was effected by the election of R. P. Strathearn of Simi, president; Charles Donlon of Oxnard, vice-president; J. J. Streets of Ventura, secretary; M. Erburu, treasurer. Sheriff McMartin had been working on the matter for some time. Thefts of stock had become so numerous that it was impossible for the officials to cope with it. The organization is known as the Ventura County Live Stock and Protective Association. For the arrest and conviction of any horse, mule or cattle thief a reward of $200 will be given, while for the rounding up of any hog, sheep or goat thief the reward will be $50.

The whole county has taken up with enthusiasm the celebration of the completion of the paving of the streets of this city. The great jubilee will be held the first week in December. Such interest has been evinced by all sections, that it will be really a county celebration.

The third monthly report of the Ventura High School shows a registration of 180 pupils, and an average daily attendance of 170—the largest in the history of the school.

Cortez Mason, a former well-known Ventura boy, is on a honeymoon visit to this city with his bride. He was married on the 3d inst. at Coalinga to Miss Pearl Rockwell.

Announcement has been made by Senator and Mrs. T. R. Bard of Hueneme of the engagement of their daughter, Anna, to Ensign Sherwood Ayers Taffinder, U.S.N. The wedding will take place in the spring on the return of Ensign Taffinder with the fleet, which is now in oriental seas.

WHAT THE JUVENILE COURTS HAVE ACCOMPLISHED.

Probation Officers Talk Interestingly and Instructively at Blanchard Hall—Improved Methods Lead Many Boys and Girls to Lives of Good Citizens—The Old Way.

The principal speaker before the Francis Murphy Gospel Temperance Association at Blanchard Hall Sunday night was Capt. A. C. Dodds, probation officer of Los Angeles county. He said in part:

"Up to within ten years ago, it was the universal custom to arrest boys who were charged with violating the law and put them in the Police Station in cells along with thugs, toughs, drunks and dissolute characters of all kinds; to charge them with crime and try them along with hardened criminals; to send them to prison with thieves and blackguards of every description. Within the last ten years that has all been done away with in every State in the Union. There is now no charge of crime, no trial or verdict of guilty as charged; but the child is charged with being delinquent or dependent. He is kept in a comfortable home; he is given a comfortable bed and three square meals a day; his hair is cut; he is given a new suit of clothes and cared for in every way to make him clean and comfortable.

"The Juvenile Court went into operation in 1903 in this county. During the time that has elapsed since then, something like 1800 children have been before the court. Today has been my day for receiving reports from my boys on probation. Many of them cannot come any day but Sunday. One hundred and twenty-four men and eighty-six working boys filed through my office and received praise or censure as the case merited. It is very gratifying to see the many bright-faced fellows, with shoes shining, and in their best clothes, who were wrecks of humanity when they first came to us, but who are now self-respecting and self-supporting fellows, trying to do the best they can.

"We have girls among them, too, more is the pity. Right here in the city of Los Angeles there are pitfalls that you do not know of. I could show you where little girls are dancing tonight with men old enough to be their fathers. We have three women connected with the court who never let a girl get out of their influence for good as long as there is a shred to hang to.

"There are four things that more than any others make the juvenile courts necessary — debt, divorce, drunkenness and desertion—they leave the children stranded and they have to be taken charge of by the State. Two-thirds of these are caused by drunkenness."

Prof. Breckenridge sang "O Lord, Be Merciful." He is organizing a chorus choir for the Sunday evening meetings, and would be glad to meet any who would care to help in this work, as well as receive the benefit of his instruction in chorus singing.

TO STOP BUDGET LEAKS.

Chicago Proposes to Alter System of Departmental Appropriations to Get "Value Received."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago's "Budget" is to undergo a complete metamorphosis. The process is designed to prevent absolutely the "leaks", in the manner of departmental appropriations which are suspected to have depleted the city treasury for years without the city getting "value received."

Whether in an actual lessening of expenditures the reform will show results is a matter of conjecture. That for every cent paid out the city will receive an equivalent under the new plan, however, is insisted by those who have prepared the innovation.

They figure that the hoped for actual reduction in the city's total appropriations will result. They estimate the probable reduction at from 4 to 5 percent, or a total of from $1,000,000 each year. The annual general appropriation bill under the new arrangement practically will be framed along the lines of he appropriation bill which has been enforced upon the municipal government of New York by the Bureau of Municipal Research.

"NAVIGATING THE AIR."

Various Phases of Subject to Be Discussed in This City Next Friday Evening.

"Navigating the Air" will be the subject discussed at a meeting at Simpson Auditorium, next Friday night. William A. Spalding, president of the Southern California Academy of Sciences, will give a history of the first practical use of balloons in military operations.

Capt. H. W. Slotterbeck, N.G.C., will be present with his uniformed aëronautic signal corps, and will speak of the practical work performed by Company A, in charting and investigating aërial currents in Southern California.

William H. Knight, former president of the Academy of Sciences, will compare the old drifting balloon with the modern cigar-shaped dirigibles and the aëroplanes.

Prof. Charles F. Holder will present some reasons for the establishment of a government aëronautic station near this city, where the conditions, he says, are ideal for air navigation. Admission will be by card, which can be obtained at Parker's bookstore, the Bartlett music store, and from Mr. Spalding.

SUDDEN SUMMONS.

DEATH COMES UNEXPECTEDLY.

PIONEER AND POLITICIAN IS TAKEN BY APOPLEXY.

Former Judge Sheppard Lived Active Life Up to the Last—Member of Odd Fellows' First Lodge at Baltimore—Came to California in Ship Around the Horn.

Former Judge Summerfield A. Sheppard, a prominent pioneer and politician of this State, died suddenly of apoplexy yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. A. Haskins, No. 121 South Workman street. The deceased was 85 years of age, but up to within a few hours before his death, he was in comparatively vigorous health.

He led an unusually active life. With a party of Baltimore gold seekers the young attorney sailed, by way of Cape Horn, for San Francisco. On the way the voyagers had trouble with their captain. He was tried before an impromptu court, with young Sheppard as prosecutor. The captain was found guilty and was put off the ship at the next port, and another man was engaged.

Arriving at San Francisco, the party of Marylanders joined the rush for the gold diggings. After varying fortunes, Sheppard returned to San Francisco and practiced law for nearly ten years. About that time the fruit district around Visalia began to come into prominence, and Sheppard moved there with his family.

He rapidly assumed a prominent position in the community, and served as District Attorney, and also as judge for several terms. Later he came south to Ventura, where he became well known as a lawyer and politician. He was judge of the Superior Court for several years, and served in many executive capacities in the city and county.

He moved to Los Angeles about seven years ago. His wife died some time ago. He leaves two married daughters, Mrs. Haskins and Mrs. Bella Stewart, and two sons, Thomas A. Sheppard of this city, and Summerfield D. Sheppard, who lives in Shasta county.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. The deceased may be given a ritualistic burial, as he was one of the members of the Baltimore Lodge, No. 1, I.O.O.F., and hence was one of the few "Ancient Odd Fellows."

LARGER QUARTERS.

The card party for the benefit of the scholarship fund, which was to have been held tomorrow afternoon at the Woman's Club House, will be given instead at the Goldberg-Bosley Assembly Hall, Sixteenth and South Flower streets. The large attendance which is expected necessitated the change.

ILLINOIS VALLEY IN STORM GRIP.

ELECTRICAL DISTURBANCE MOST SEVERE ON RECORD.

Lightning Works Havoc Throughout Peoria and All Wires Are Lost. Several Houses Struck and Burned. Woman Victim of Freak of Storm, Which Follows Very Warm Day.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Nov. 7.—The Illinois Valley was swept tonight by the severest electrical storm on record.

Lightning created havoc throughout Peoria and for a time all telegraph and telephone communication was lost. Electric lights in many sections of the city are out. Several houses were struck and burned.

Meager reports from surrounding towns show considerable damage by the wind and lightning. The storm followed an exceptionally warm day.

A freak of the storm at the home of Robert Conkey nearly cost the life of Mrs. Conkey. A bolt of lightning flashed through the door, encircling the entire room and passed out without damaging the house a particle. Mrs. Conkey received such a shock that for two hours she was unconscious. A stepdaughter was paralyzed in the left arm.

BUTTE GIVES HEINZE OVATION.

WELCOME TO FORMER COPPER KING TREMENDOUS.

Four Thousand People Crowd the Streets Before Hotel to Hear His Address and His Carriage Is Dragged from Station by Score or More of Admirers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUTTE (Mont.) Nov. 7.—On his return to Butte tonight, after two years' absence, F. Augustus Heinze was given an ovation, the equal of which has seldom been tendered a private citizen in this city. From the balcony of the Butte Hotel, Heinze spoke to a crowd of 4000 people, who frequently interrupted him with cheers.

At the depot a crowd of 1500 people had gathered with the Boston and Montana Band. The carriage in which Heinze rode uptown was drawn by a score or more of stalwart admirers.

The main thoroughfare of the city was brilliantly illuminated with long strings and clusters of incandescent lights, and two huge electric signs blazed forth a welcome.

In the absence of Mayor Nevin, County Attorney Walker welcomed Heinze on behalf of the Mayor.

Heinze in responding to the address referred to the indictments against him in New York, predicting that they would be quashed, or, as he expressed it, "the obstacles placed in his path would be swept aside." Following his address, Heinze held a reception in the hotel parlors, during which many of his former lieutenants and old friends greeted him enthusiastically.

STRIKING STUDENTS RETURN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Nov. 7.—The 400 boys and girls who left West High School Wednesday on strike, will return to their studies tomorrow morning. This decision followed a conference of the Strikers' Committee with the school board tonight. The children regard the result as a victory for them. A deputation of fathers and mothers appointed from the Parents' League will appear before the school council tomorrow night to present in full the arguments against a double session plan. They will support the plea of the youngsters that afternoon sessions take away away the chances of schooling from those who must work half the day to earn their education.

IN PAWN.

HER "UNCLE," HIS MOTHER.

Suit Is Started to Prevent the Sale of Diamonds.

Necklaces Held to Secure Two Loans of Money.

She Asserts Mother-in-Law Has Figured Wrong.

Determined to regain possession of two diamond necklaces, which she says she gave her mother-in-law as security for two loans aggregating $1050, Mrs. Elsie Schenck-Hupp has brought suit in the Superoir Court to secure a settlement of her account with Mrs. Rachel Hupp of San Francisco. She admits her persistence has caused an estrangement with her husband, Attorney George Hupp, of this city, but she is determined to get the possession of her jewels, she says.

"My sister-in-law is just crazy about those jewels," asserted pretty Mrs. Hupp yesterday, "and I am positive that the proposed sale of my necklaces is for the purpose of allowing her to buy them. I owe my husband's mother just $1050 with interest. Some time ago I got a curt note from her, stating that unless I paid her $1450 and interest, that she would sell my jewels. I at once consulted my lawyer, Attorney John Murphy, and he got a restraining order. I am willing to pay what is owing Mrs. Hupp, but I certainly don't intend that she shall dispose of diamonds worth several thousand dollars until the court makes a decision.

Mrs. Hupp, who was formerly the wife of Sam Schenck, Police Commissioner under ex-Mayor Harper, declined to discuss her relations with her present husband. "He perhaps naturally sided with his mother," said she with a sigh. "I certainly have not one word to say against him. If we are separated that concerns no one but ourselves. I had had too much notoriety in the past. I want to escape sensational rumors of divorce."

VALUABLE JEWELS.

Though not a wealthy woman, Mrs. Hupp is comfortably well off, and is said to possess jewels valued at more than $10,000. She has a pretty little bungalow at No. 111 South Benton Way, where she was seen by the reporter yesterday.

"I was in immediate need of money," said Mrs. Schenck-Hupp, "and asked Mr. Hupp, who was then my attorney, to get a loan for me on my jewelry. He said he thought he could negotiate the loan with his mother. I borrowed $500 on one necklace and $550 on the other. I did not give any note, and no papers passed between us.

"I never worried about the loans, as I supposed Mrs. Hupp would give me plenty of time to repay her. Of course, after my marriage to her son, I felt doubly secure. I was greatly surprised when I learned that my mother-in-law was to sell the jewels, after going through certain legal formalities."

After their marriage, in December, 1908, the Hupps resided on the West Side. Mrs. Hupp, Sr., also came here to live, and as far as known, the young wife, her husband and his mother were all on the best of terms. Mrs. Hupp, Sr., some time ago returned to San Francisco, and not until it became known that she had given legal notice that the jewels of her daughter-in-law would be sold to satisfy a debt, did any one imagine that there was any disagreement between the two women.

JUST IN TIME.

The five days' notice of the sale expires tomorrow, and the restraining order obtained here Saturday was served upon the elder Mrs. Hupp just in time.

It is expected that Mrs. Hupp, Jr., will make a tender in court of the money she professes to owe her mother-in-law, and ask that the necklaces be returned to her.

She expects to leave for the East within a few weeks to see her daughter, who is in a school in Washington, D. C. She will take her daughter abroad for an extended trip later in the winter. She does not expect to return to Los Angeles until next fall.

REWARD BRINGS GUN MEN.

Chinese Flock to San Francisco to Get Price Set on Head of On Yicks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A price of $1000 has been placed on the head of the president of the On Yick Toug and $500 on the head of each member of the Highbinder tong by the power of the Yee family, one of whose men was recently shot by On Yick gunmen. The result has been to attract Chinese braves to this city to struggle for this reward. The police believe that a bloody war fare will soon break out as the Yee family refused all offers of compromise.

Five days ago Yu Quan was murdered by On Yick men because he had kidnaped a Chinese girl belonging to an On Yick man, and taken her to Santa Barbara. The girl was finally brought here and placed in a Chinese Christian mission. The On Yick man thus lost the large sum he had paid for the girl, and he revenged himself by shooting Yu Quan.

Then the Yee family to which Yu belonged offered a big reward after they had rejected an offer of $1300 damages to be paid to Yu Quan's relatives.

Another cause for bad blood was the recent destruction of fishing nets of the Yee family. The warfare will involve the Six Companies, which include some of the richest Chinese in this country.

30 Years of Success

The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Offer a Remedy for Catarrh. The Medicine Costs Nothing If It Fails.

When a medicine effects a successful treatment in a very large majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us, or at least put our claim to a practical test when we take all the risk. These are facts which we want the people to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician with whom catarrh was a specialty, and who has a record of thirty years of enviable success to his record.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Mucu-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store, and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucu-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disinfect and cleanse the entire mucous membraneous tract, to destroy and remove the parasites which injure the membraneous tissues, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, stop the mucous discharge, build up strong, healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter. Its influence is toward stimulating the muco-cells, aiding digestion and improving nutrition until the whole body vibrates with healthy activity. In a comparatively short time it brings about a noticeable gain in weight, strength, good color and feeling of buoyancy.

We urge you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, beginning a treatment today. At any time you are not satisfied, simply come and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble. We have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50c and $1. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Los Angeles only at our stores—The Rexall Stores, The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; and Seattle, Wash.

SHOOTS JEALOUS RIVAL.

Attacked by Man Who Loved Girl He Was Visiting, Suitor Uses His Revolver.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Nov. 7.—Insane with jealousy when he found Della Sands, whom he admired, in a room at her home with John Reising early this morning, John Hudson, an ex-city employé, pounced upon Reising, and in the melee received two bullet wounds. He died this afternoon.

Reising was captured six hours after the shooting. He acknowledged the shooting, according to State's Attorney Scholes.

Reising's visit to the Sands' home was not by prearrangement. He did not know Hudson, and when the latter assaulted him he whipped out his revolver and fired twice. Reising fled, and was found asleep in a cabin boat. The witnesses to the shooting maintain a stubborn silence, declaring they did not know the name of the assailant. All are held for the Coroner's inquest.

The dead man two years ago was tried for killing Charles Ogden with a blow of the fist, but was acquitted. Hudson has been married two months.

Editorial Pen Points

The Republican party ought to be good enough for a Republican.

Politics is politics, which is to say that it is not an old ladies' tea party.

It will be just like the House of Lords to challenge fate and fly to pieces.

For really real sensation we are quite frequently compelled to fall back on Paris.

If you have a drop of Republican blood in your veins now is the time to show it.

An eastern writer declares that rare old coins bring high prices. So do eggs and meat.

It is the dragon flag of old Wales and not the lion banner of St. George that flies over England.

We fail to notice that Dr. Eliot's new religion has yet succeeded in doing serious damage to the Ten Commandments.

And the man who is willing to desert his party for the sole reason that he wants an office is not a good Republican.

England is probably making up its mind to burn the bridges over which royalty has crossed since the days of Alfred.

When the party in power in Great Britain slips a cog it "goes to the country." In other words it takes to the woods.

A woman is as old as she looks and she can dress as well as her neighbor on about $450 for each outfit from head to toe.

There is little or no difference between a grafter and a rebater. And it seems impossible to keep either of them out of politics.

According to a poem in the Century Magazine half the world is ready to fight for England. That is what is called poetic license.

A man in Indiana was fined $100 for attempting to commit suicide. Now he has something to live for. He has a grouch.

King Edward sadly declares that he will soon be the only hereditary institution left in England. And soon even he will not be left.

In his younger days the late "Long Pat" McCarren was a cooper. That may explain why he always had his eye on the "barrel."

A Roman writer once spoke of "The beautiful tomb of a beautiful woman." There comes a time when feathers and things don't count.

We believe that the people of Los Angeles are prepared to knock the halos from the heads of a few hypocrites at this week's primaries.

You wouldn't think now that there was a time when it was thought that the man who paid $150 for a bicycle was going some, would you?

There is a woman in Kentucky who was born without hands. But we'll bet they have found some way to make her wash the dishes, just the same.

As far as can be learned none of the candidates for the City Council have dropped out of the race, at least as far as they are personally concerned.

When the Republican party is marked for slaughter then is the time for true Republicans to stand together and shift the slaughter to the other side.

Bobby Burns said that an Englishman dearly loves a Lord. Well, it is not Englishmen who have the destinies of England in hand at the present fateful hour.

It is to be remembered that if the Republican party is to be macerated and dismembered in cities like Los Angeles it will not long have the power to rule the nation.

If the present King of England were not the good fellow and the fine gentleman that he is, it is likely enough that he would have to step out when the Lords step out.

Lloyd George flatly refused to obey the command of the King. Once it was the barons who defied a British King, but now it is the son of a Welsh blacksmith who does it.

The new hair dress costs at least $35 at the stores. It means money when lovely woman approaches the duty of arraying her person these bright and sunny mornings.

That's a great fight which the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland now has on hand—a battle for control between the Celts and what remains of the Anglo-Saxons.

In Germany the railroads sell tickets allowing persons to stand on the platforms of the cars to say good-by to the passengers. We think we have heard somewhere that the Germans are a thrifty people.

The French courts appear to have thrown Count Boni Castellane out of the front door for good. The years of valuable time that Boni has chewed up on the French courts is something shocking to contemplate.

An effort is to be made to pass a law in New York State compelling hunters to wear red hats. If, in addition, they were also compelled to leave their guns at home, we think the record of fatalities could be reduced to a minimum.

T. P. O'Connor expects to raise $50,000 in Chicago for the home-rule cause. He ought to be able to raise that much among the Irish on the police force alone, not to speak of the Cudahys and the other Irish millionaires of the Windy City.

THE THIRD DEGREE AND AFTER.

There are some things that are generally admitted. For instance, it is generally admitted that there are many men who have deserved punishment at the hands of the law but who have always escaped. On the other hand, it is true that there are also many men whom the law has so terribly punished that the result must be regarded more in the light of a vengeance than a punishment.

Tremendous sums of money are spent in the enforcement of the law to put human beings behind prison walls, but not a cent is spent in an attempt to rescue a lawbreaker from his life of crime and to restore him to manhood and a place in society. Most responsible for this is what is known in police parlance as the "third degree."

The situation is that police officers, patrolmen, detectives and everybody connected with the police institution are inspired with what might be called a demoniacal eagerness to successfully prosecute and land in jail every person subjected to arrest. In their mistaken zeal they make no attempt at discrimination. The record of a policeman, and especially of the policeman who is known as a detective, depends on the number of his successful prosecutions. He looks upon every individual accused of a violation of the law as his legitimate prey. The detective is consumed with a desire to see the alleged offender behind prison bars. It means another notch in the detective's stick; promotion and higher pay.

It was this condition that brought about the devilish invention called the "third degree"—an invention compared with which the actual tortures of the thumbscrews of the Inquisition were merciful.

After the third degree has accomplished its soul-destroying and unspeakably brutal work, what happens? Why, all that happens is that a man who might have been saved to society is lost to it, irretrievably and forever, in most cases. Not only is he lost to society, but he is lost to his family, to himself and to his very chance of salvation hereafter.

In the name of all that is good and holy in human nature, cannot something be done to induce the law to expend some of its millions of resources in efforts to save men instead of destroying them? It is the rarest thing in the world to find a man who has not some good in him. It is safe to say—because it has been proved—that there is in the soul of every man that God created the germ of salvation. Instead of the "third degree" let us have something that will bend its energies toward making men better instead of preordaining them to jail and hopelessness.

GOING AHEAD.

'Tis just like old times south of the Tehachepi. Things are humming everywhere. Here's Riverside, for example, going to have a five-story office building to take the place of a bank structure less than half the height.

Then there is San Bernardino keeping up with the procession. That city intends to put up a new City Hall that shall be a credit to the wonderful valley. Moreover its Chamber of Commerce proposes to have a new home.

Down in the extreme south we read of plans approved for the new government building at San Diego which is to cost $135,000. The Masonic fraternity is also to erect a four-story building of reinforced concrete.

The tale of more buildings is not confined to the larger cities. From all over the rich southland reports are received of new additions. Truly there will be no winter of discontent in this favored section of the land.

THE LOGICAL COUNCIL.

The Times has never been able to accept without qualification the idea of an all-at-large City Council. We can see the defects in the ward system of electing Councilmen, but they are in no wise so grave or dangerous as the possibilities in the all all-at-large Council.

In the ward Council the good point is that all sections of the city have their representation. This is in exact conformity with the Constitutions of all States of the Union, which divide the voters into Assembly and Senate districts. It is exactly in accordance with the Constitution of the United States which provides for Congressmen elected by specially defined Congressional districts. Even in the Senate, each State has its representation.

A bad point is that the Councilmen are inclined to "plug" too much, or in the political parlance to "log roll" for the wards which they represent. There is also danger in some cities of a ward Councilman standing too strongly for some particular interest dominating that geographical portion of the city.

On the other hand, the all-at-large Council does not seem to us to have anything to recommend it. One danger lies in electing a Council mostly from one particular section of the city. Then instead of having one Councilman "log rolling" for his ward we might have two to four or five doing the same thing with a good deal more dangerous effect. But besides the danger of having a preponderance of one section of the city in the Council there is also a still greater danger of having certain types of citizenship represented redundantly while other types would have no voice in making the laws. Now the poor man on American principles ought to have as much consideration in the making of the laws as the rich man, and the plainest citizen of the least mental acquirements is entitled to somebody to plead his cause and represent his interests when it comes to making general laws.

In our opinion, the ideal Council would be one composed either of one "house," each ward having its own representatives, and then five elected at large. Possibly it might be as well to divide the Council into two "houses," the ward representatives meeting in one, the more popular one, and the all-at-large members meeting separately. But that is a matter of detail.

The viciousness of the New-Light fad of an all all-at-large Council is manifest in the present instance in the action of the very persons who stood for and were instrumental in foisting this device upon the city in its charter. They do not dare take their own medicine without some coating upon it. At the same time, while they have attempted to deceive the voters in the different sections into the notion that they will be represented anyhow, they have chosen for their ticket mostly Councilmen of one class or type of citizenship and they have given a preponderance of the ticket, too, to a certain given section of the city.

It is unnecessary to dwell at further length upon this subject. We believe the public pretty thoroughly understands it. Any misgiving as to the desirability of geographical distribution of the Council that may have existed because of the pretentious argumentation of the New-Lights must give way in the presence of their own failure to carry out the principles they lauded so ardently.

In the election next Wednesday we therefore, with all earnestness, recommend to the voters of this city to elect the Republican ticket for Council. In this way there will be fair play, geographically speaking and also from the social point of view. All classes of the city excepting the criminal class will have a voice in the Council if our advice is followed. All geographical subdivisions of the city will have their representatives to take care of the interests. The nominees are men of good intelligence, fair-minded in every respect, and we think they will, while looking out properly for the interests of their own clients, not be unfair in their dealings with the city at large.

It seems to us that it would be the height of folly for the voters in any particular ward to fail to support the Republican nominees for the Council. There is no absolute assurance that in any other way every ward in the city will be represented. The Councilmanic ticket is so numerous that the vote will be split up into very small fractions. There is no telling how small a vote at the final election in December may land a candidate in the City Council. An enormous vote may be cast for three or four Councilmen. The second list of names on the ticket pulling through the primaries and going into the final election in December may in many instances represent a very small vote, and yet at the final election these persons, the choice of a mere fraction of the voters, may be elected. We may see a class Council elected in this way.

If, on the contrary, our advice is taken and the voters in each ward will generally cast their ballots for the whole Republican ticket, we may expect a Council which will geographically represent the city and from the social point of view will give representation to not one class only but all classes of the inhabitants.

WHICH?

THE HATRED OF A KING.

Winston Churchill, the able son of a distinguished father, is said to have won the hatred of King Edward. Isn't that a frightful thing to contemplate.

A cablegram from London states that the King has described Churchill as "partly alien and wholly undesirable." Possibly His Majesty and the enemies of Winston consider that a wonderfully clever saying, "a regular corker," to indulge in their own language. But when it comes to being partly alien it seems that Edward is in the same boat, and certainly his wife is. His Majesty has considerable German blood in his veins and the lady who wears the Cullinan diamond in her crown is of Danish stock. If to be partly alien is to be something utterly undescribable, as His Majesty seems to think, then he is in the same class with the Cabinet Minister he hates.

Time was when a King's hatred gave a man an uneasy feeling around the neck. Kings in the old days had a nasty habit of saying "off with his head," and then there was a funeral. However, the old order changeth and Winston Churchill is not going around London choosing his pallbearers. He is quite capable of holding up his head even though the wrath of the whole royal family descends upon his devoted "topnot."

WHY NOT?

The Times fails to hear an expression of any good reason why the control of the municipal affairs of Los Angeles should not be intrusted to the party of Lincoln and Roosevelt and Taft, instead of to the clique of Lissner and Churl and Nathan Newby. Then why not vote for the regularly nominated Republican ticket in next Wednesday's primaries? Why not vote to put the grand old party in power and keep the cranky clique out?

The Times faces the situation with much serenity and complacency, so far as the opposition to Uncle Aleck is concerned. Smith, Mushet, Farish—they are all good men. They have, each and all, been tried in public office and proven level-headed, independent, honest officials. But The Times sees very plainly that the only safe course for those opposed to clique control, to "Our Set" government and to Nathan Newbyism is to vote for Smith and the Republican ticket. All together now! Why not?

"BY INTOLERABLE NOISES."

Our new political agitators, the suffragettes, are not content with demanding equal privileges with men. They seem to think that by the phrase "universal suffrage" when applied to women should be meant the right of women to vote, not only in their own country but in all countries where elections are held. There is no other sound hypothesis on which to account for the militant activity of so many of the sex invading this country from beyond seas. What Mrs. Carrie Catt and Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and the others from "dear old Lunnon" are doing in this country is a little difficult for the ordinary American to appreciate. If a man candidate for office were to import a lot of spellbinders, highbinders or other binders from England, whether they were Radicals, Liberals or Conservatives, to argue with American voters as to how they should use their franchise in the election, it would be exceedingly bad for the importing candidates, for their cause and for their party.

One of these imported spellbinders of the "opposite sex" points her sisters in America to the excellent example set by herself and her following in England. She says they have made woman suffrage the leading political issue of the day by keeping up a din of "intolerable noises." We had thought they had used other weapons. We have heard of belligerent Amazons armed with brickbats breaking the windows of members of the English Cabinet in their contention for the privilege of voting. Fortunately Mrs. Pankhurst does not advise her American sisters to take to the brickbat-throwing influences, but urges that they limit themselves to the "intolerable noises."

Now men recognize the fact (and it is a fact) that importing orators to do politics is not good politics. It usually results in failure when spellbinders are brought from one State into another unless they be men of national figure. As to importing speakers from England or other places beyond sea to influence elections in America, such a thing is never thought of. This is not the only mistake made by the fair suffragettes of America. The imported orators are ill advised and utterly unconscious of the temperament of the American people. Woman suffrage may prevail in America at some future time, and it may not. But one thing we feel quite at liberty to say without any qualification, that "intolerable noises" will not win the right to vote for women in this country any more than throwing brickbats would.

However it may be in England, in America violence, whether of act or speech, does not often win votes.

Futurity.

My youth to me was like a lovely flower,
All flushed with crimson of its own delight,
Its flamelike petals poised as if for flight,
Ethereal child of changing sun and shower,
Of misty dawn and night.

My age to me is like golden fruit
Whose quality and sweetness have been won
From earth's rough use—from alternating sun
And rain and that dark soil wherein my root
Invisibly has run.

My soul to me is like a ripening seed
Which holds the heart of all that went before—
The flamelike flower and golden fruit in store,
Close-sealed, secure, in larger love and deed
To live and bloom once more.

HOROSCOPE.

Monday, November 8, 1909.

BY COZETTE.

Now fair and fortunate shall blow the breeze
That wafts the merchant's golden argosies.

Jupiter this day is in conjunction with the moon. Venus is in opposition.

In the east, Mars is moving into a position that is held by astrology to fore-omen "outbreak of fire and rebellion, muttering of winds and stirring of mountains and valleys." His most malign power will be exerted over the region near longitude 90 East. The menace increases toward the time of the new moon.

It is foretold, also, that there shall be a sign set in the heavens in the coming days.

Saturn, Uranus and Neptune also assume their ominous interposition now, and threaten that there shall be unrest of nature and man.

On this day those who are moody or easily depressed should strive determinedly to cast off their gloom or pessimism, for the aspects are cheerful and sunny and demand only that humanity respond to them.

Commerce, industry and human endeavor generally are all under good omens in the entire land in these twenty-four hours. Jupiter beams on trade and exchange, blesses new undertakings, favors the worker and shines for mutual profit in selling and buying.

Venus holds a position that warns lovers and married people against petty quarrels, jealousies, teasing and flirtation. Forbearance and faith are needed for all dealings between the sexes.

Women who shop this day should refrain from thoughtless or angry criticism of those who serve them, and salespeople must cultivate cheerfulness and show interest even in the trivial desires of customers. All persons dealing with women today must be careful to explain all details clearly.

Persons with this birthdate are under signs that confer great success and originality on those who produce things that meet the finer needs of humanity. Those in employment should find the twelve-month excellent for advancement.

Children are born under aspects that promise a great love of labor and activity. Care must be taken in their early training that this trait shall not degenerate into mere restlessness and a constant desire to be "up and doing" at the expense of calmness and thought.

UNCLE WALT, WARBLER.

BY UNCLE WALT MASON OF EMPORIA.
Where Grows the Sundower.

You may hear Jemima crying; she is sobbing, she is sighing, for her life seems flat and empty, and she yearns for Higher Things; she would win a reputation that would cover all creation; and her mother from the woodshed all the coal and kindling brings. Little Willie is disgusted, for his golden dreams are busted, and he finds the world he lives in is the weariest of bores; he is gazing from the casement in a sort of self-abasement, while his daddy spades the garden and is doing other chores. This old world is gay and festive, and the dreamers who grow restive, saying it's a cheap delusion, built to bother and to irk, might forget their woe and wailing, and reproaches unavailing, if they'd shed their outer garments and get down to earnest work. Dreams are idle, dreams are hazy, and the girl is simply lazy who goes round the house a-yearning when she ought to sweep the floor; and the lily-fingered Willie seems too blamed absurd and silly, when, because he missed connections, he is sure the world's a bore!

Advance Announcement

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, we shall show, in our Fourth Floor dressmaking parlors, exclusive styles in foreign and domestic silks and velvets. We invite you to view this informal display.

Charming Fall Trimmings

Showing these new trimmings means in practically every instance, to sell them; for they are irresistibly attractive.

Among the more elaborate garnitures are hand-made, imported opalescent affairs; pearls and gold, in combination with light pastel colorings worked by hand in silk patterns; barbaric effects whose crudeness is softened wonderfully by little touches of gold or crystal or pearl here and there.

Plainer, yet no less popular trimmings are soutache and rat-tail cords; allover gold, crystal and jet trimmings and various similar things. You'll want to see these displays, now that they are at their finest.

Autumn Tones in Winter Fabrics

Today the Dress Goods Section is a perfect color harmony, from the wide wale diagonal cheviots to the fine satin suedes, and for imported fabrics (as the majority of them are) the prices are modest, indeed.

Chevron and Van Dyck stripes, in gray tones, are extra good for men's and women's coats.
Scotch Mixtures, our own importations; 60 inches wide, are $4. to $6 a yard.
Bedford Cords, imported and domestic; in autumn's most charming shades, 50 and 52 inches wide, are $1.50.
Suitings, for men's and women's tailored garments, $2 to $7. Broadcloths, in newest shadings, at all prices.

Substantial Lining Satins

In black linings we've an unsurpassed assortment—Cashemere diagonal and Pres de Soie weaves, all pure silk; the diagonals best for men's coat linings; $2 to $2.50 a yard.
Skinner's satin linings, 36 inches wide, pastel and staple shades, $1.50.
All-silk linings, plain or diagonal weave; $1.50.
Guaranteed satin, plain or herringbone finish; guaranteed for two seasons' wear; 36 inches wide, $1.00.

A Satisfactory Silk Store

It is with extreme gratification that we announce our readiness to supply discriminating women with the choicest silks the world produces; our stocks are at present the largest, the best assorted and the most exclusive that we have ever carried. Your especial attention is directed to the superior lighting facilities here—natural light all day long, with a special room for displaying silks under electric light when you wish to see the effect. Among very recent arrivals are:

45-inch Moire velour (silk and wool), in new colors, at.....$3.50
36-inch Moire velour, in white, black, light and dark shades $1.50
33-inch diagonal Cademon de Soie; a new silk weave, in all colors, at, yd....$2.50
33-inch Moire Cotele, for costumes and coats or capes.....$2.25

Voile Meteor, the very newest creation from Paris; a gauzy silk in French pastel shades, for evening gowns, to be made over glace silks; $2.50 a yard. Glace silks for foundations, 85c to $1.25 a yard.

Laminated cotton comforts, with plain borders, figured covers, $3.50. We are Los Angeles Agents for these.

McCall Patterns, Magazines and Catalogue for DECEMBER ready for you now. Fashion Sheets free.

Stamped Pieces for Embroiderers

Those of you who love dainty needlework will be particularly interested in the displays of stamped articles, which are delightfully easy to complete, and remarkably pretty when finished.

Stamped work aprons, baby pillows, pin cushions (with cushion), kimonos, handkerchiefs, glove and handkerchief cases, all done on crossbar lawn, ready to work. These pieces are inexpensive, and we show finished ones that illustrate their possibilities.

Guest and large size linen towels make splendid gifts, if hand embroidered; here in Wallachian, French and eyelet embroidery.

Pillow cases and pillow slips, stamped on linen, are easily worked, and make charming presents.

We give instructions for working any or all of the above without any charge, if you buy your materials here.
